Mediators Seek To Settle New York Apartment Strike

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—State mediators today stepped into the strike of 12,000 AFL building service employees, arousing hopes that the walkout which has deprived some 200,000 Manhattan apartment dwellers of elevator and other services may be ended by nightfall.

As about 70,000 weary Manhattan families in the better apartment houses began a second day of trudging up and down stairs the building service union claimed the walkout was "100 per cent effective."

David Sullivan, president of the union's Local 32-B, said, "we've stopped service in practically every apartment house represented by the realty advisory board and that means little more than 1,000 buildings."

Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the state board of mediation, arranged to meet the building operators and then talk with the union leaders.

An encouraging factor was that the operators promised Mayor William O'Dwyer that they would give serious consideration to a proposal to arbitrate the dispute.

Meyer has been an advocate of arbitration and the union has accepted this. The owners, however, have said there is nothing to arbitrate because the rent freeze prevents them from granting the demanded wage increases.

Marshal Tito Rejects Idea War Inevitable

Tito Gives Beliefs In Mass News Conference Today

BY KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, I. N. S.)

BELGRADE, April 28.—Marshal Tito rejected today any contention that war between east and west is inevitable.

In the first mass news conference with western journalists that he has ever held, Tito expressed belief that the basic concept of communism does not envisage the ultimate necessity of war between socialist and capitalist states.

Tito said:
Mixup Over Question
"I think there is a mix-up over this question of the inevitability of a clash between capitalist and socialist societies."

"Nowhere in Marxism does it state that a clash is inevitable." The Yugoslav leader said that he foresees a long period of economic cooperation between his country and the United States. Asked specifically whether he thinks that American policy toward Yugoslavia is based upon long or short term interests, he replied:

"If the intentions are sincere, economic cooperation must be on a long term basis and I believe it is that."

Tito said he can not guarantee for all time that no Soviet satellite nation will attack Yugoslavia but that he does not consider it likely "at present." He said also he does not believe that Russia "intends to precipitate a war against the United States or Yugoslavia."

Military Aid Not Asked
"Yugoslavia has not yet asked the United States for military aid. I don't expect the United States to offer us arms."

"And I don't believe that Russia wants to risk becoming an aggressor."

Tito urged United Nations' recognition of Communist China. He said:

"Participation of all nations in the U. N. will do a great deal to (Continued on Page Two)

Czech Charges Are Rejected
U. S. Note Declares Accusations Baseless

LONDON, April 28.—(INS)—The Czechoslovak government announced today it has received a 1,000-word note from the United States rejecting as "baseless" charges that Czech citizens were ill treated by American army personnel in Germany last March.

The incident was alleged to have occurred when three plane loads of Czechs landed March 24 at Erding airport, near Munich.

The planes, with a total of 84 persons aboard, had been commandeered in flight over Czechoslovakia and landed at Erding where 27 of the Czech arrivals elected to become exiles.

The American note rejected the Czech government's allegations as "baseless both in general tone and specific detail."

One of the principal complaints seemed to be that Czechs who were involuntary passengers on the flight were forced to land in western Germany instead of at Prague.

Delivery of the note to the Czech foreign ministry was reported by the Reuters News Agency.

Westinghouse Vote On Unions Results In Split

May Need Runoff Election At East Pittsburgh Plant (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—A union ousted by CIO on charges of Communist domination today retained the right to represent workers in at least seven major plants operated by the Westinghouse Corp.

The United Electrical Workers, in its first major test of strength with its CIO successor, trailed in the total tabulated vote but won in plants at Sunbury, Pa.; Trenton, N. J.; Derry, Pa.; Baltimore, Chicago, and in two unit elections in south Philadelphia.

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, April 28.—The CIO's attempt to take over labor representation in the electrical industry resulted in a split down the middle today between the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union and the newly-formed IUE in Westinghouse corporation plants.

Results of National Labor Relations Board elections at 40 plants gave bargaining rights to the CIO-IUE in 20 plants and a like number to the unaffiliated UE, which was expelled from the CIO last fall on charges of allegedly following the Communist party line.

An NLRB field examiner, Reed Johnston, indicated a ruling may be made later today on the possibility of a runoff, after the board checks the legality of 147 challenged ballots.

If Johnston decides the challenges shall stand, then the NLRB in Washington must rule on the necessity of a runoff. If the challenged ballots are tossed out, neither side would have a majority (Continued on Page Two)

DISTILLERY IS STRIKE CLOSED

SCHENLEY, Pa., April 28.—(INS)—The Schenley distillery of Joseph S. Finch & company was closed today by a strike of 1,100 CIO distillery workers in a dispute over working conditions.

C. W. Young, general manager, reported the dispute involved a demand by the workers for additional men on an operation where the company claims they are not needed.

Management declared it will refuse to discuss the issue until the workers return to their jobs and the dispute is handled under contract procedure for grievances.

Hoover's Plan Is Opposed By U.N. Secretary

Former President Proposes New U.N. Without Russia

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover's proposal to reorganize the United Nations "without the communist nations in it" was opposed today by U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie.

United Nations spokesmen at the U. N. pointed out that Hoover's proposal is contrary to official American policy and emphasized "the usefulness" of the world body.

French officials pointed out that they could not discuss Hoover's plan because of the French proposal for a "high Atlantic peace council" but unofficially it was said in Paris that the views of the ex-president indicated a belief that the U. N. was bankrupt.

The Republican leader, addressing the closing session of the convention of the American Newspaper Publishers in New York last night, advocating revising the U. N. to eliminate the "burglar" nation of Russia and its satellites. Then he said:

"If that is impractical then a definite new united front should be organized of those people who disavow communism, who stand for morals and religion, and who love freedom."

Against Police State
The only living ex-president called for "mobilization" against the "police state and human slavery," and "red agnosticism" and "red imperialism."

U.S. Policy Is Firm To Keep Soviet In U.N.

Hoover's Proposal Is Opposed By Policy Of Nation

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 28.—United States policy on keeping Russia within the United Nations despite the cold war is firm today in opposition to former President Hoover's proposal to exclude the Soviet bloc from a reorganized world body.

U. S. sources expressed this view without directly striking at Hoover's speech to the publishers convention in New York last night.

Ambassador Ernest A. Gross, deputy U. S. representative at U. N., defined American policy in an address at Governor's Island.

Gross said in part:
Defines Policy
"In our irritation, let us not forget the usefulness of preserving on a universal basis this common meeting ground. Unless the Russians themselves choose to split the world in two, the United Nations can provide a valuable forum for maintaining contact between the (Continued on Page Two)

Field Denies He's Espionage Agent Of Reds

Refuses To Answer Whether He's Member Communist Party

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Counsel for the senate loyalty investigating committee asked today that Frederick Vanderbilt Field be cited for "contempt" for refusing to answer specific questions in the Communist inquiry.

Edward P. Morgan, chief counsel for the committee, made his request after the wealthy New Yorker declined on grounds of self-incrimination to identify some of his own writings or to say whether he knew persons involved in the Amerasia case.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Frederick Vanderbilt Field denied under oath today that he has "ever been an espionage agent" for Russia but refused flatly to say whether he was a member of the Communist party. The wealthy New Yorker, who was named by ex-Communist Louis Budenz as a Soviet espionage agent, also denied to senate loyalty investigators that he attended a Communist meeting with Owen Lattimore.

To Consider Action

After Field repeatedly refused to answer questions on whether he was a Communist or whether he attended a Communist meeting in 1937, Committee Counsel Edward Morgan asked the senate group to consider Field's action. Chairman Tydings (D-Md.), said the matter would be taken up in executive session.

Field, named both by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Budenz as a Communist, testified that he had never reported to officials of the Communist party that Far East expert Lattimore was a Communist.

He denied further that he had ever attended a Communist meeting or meetings with Mr. and Mrs. Lattimore.

When the early violets begin to show, and anemones show their heads, when the spring is busting to get a start, and the restless bestirring spread. There's an urge to dress in some old, old clothes, and get out where the earth invites, a man with a spade and a rake and a hoe, for its then that the garden bug bites. And he putters around like a fussy hen, and he plants half a bushel of seeds, and speaks of the fall when the crop will come and he can provide for his needs. And the urge is on for the spring is here and the gardener is on his way, ready to grope with Dame Nature again, and it's 60 today.

Strange Flying Object Cruises Alongside Plane

The crew and passengers of a Trans-World airliner bound from Washington to Chicago last night reported a shapeless, flying object cruised alongside their plane 2,000 feet over South Bend, Ind. In the following signed article, First Officer Robert Manning, the co-pilot, tells how the object—"Glowing a dull red and so shapeless it was disconcerting—crept up on the plane and then descended and disappeared among the lights of the city" when he flew closer for a better look.

(As Told to I. N. S.)

CHICAGO, April 28.—I sat at the controls of an airliner 2,000 feet over Indiana last night and watched an object so shapeless it was disconcerting, overtake our plane and cruise alongside, only half a mile away.

I've heard of flying saucers, too, so I watched it for several minutes before I said a word. I wanted to be sure it was really there—and it really was.

Kansas City Mayor Before U.S. Probers

By GLENN M. GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Mayor William Kemp of Kansas City told congress today that "an interstate group" may have figured in the double murder of Charles Binaggio, political figure, and his lieutenant, Charles Gargotta.

But Kemp emphasized before the McFarland senate subcommittee on gambling that he was quoting "pure rumor."

He said that the Binaggio-Gargotta killing "may have occurred because Binaggio was not able to deliver on promises that Kansas City would be opened up to gambling."

Kemp cited what he termed the "rumors" that Binaggio had accepted large amounts of money from gamblers who hoped for an (Continued on Page Two)

Senate Defeats Plan For E.C.A. Fund Aid To Franco Spain

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Senate Administration leaders interpreted today the 42-to-35 defeat of ECA funds for Franco Spain as a green light for the full Marshall plan program.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D-Tex.), said the vote—the first in connection with the three billion 372 million dollar foreign aid bill—is "a pretty good pattern" for action on other amendments.

Connally disclosed that State Secretary Acheson will appear before a closed session of his committee Monday to review the troubled world situation.

Second Man, Also Assassinated, Not Identified Yet

(BULLETIN)

JAKARTA, Indonesia, April 28.—(INS)—U. S. officials announced today that the bodies of Robert Doyle, correspondent of Time and Life magazines, and another man have been found in western Java and both are believed to have been murdered.

The second victim was identified originally as Raymond Kennedy, Yale university professor.

But American officials said later that while Doyle's body was identified positively, the identity of the other is not certain. He is believed to have been a European.

Jacob Mean, counselor of the U. S. Embassy in Jakarta, set out for the scene of the killings near Samedang.

Villagers reported the two men were shot by a gang of four or five Indonesians.

The assassins were said to have been dressed in military uniforms. The villagers stated they were forced to bury the bodies.

Kennedy, a linguist who was expert in middle-eastern and Oriental languages, was considered an authority on Oriental primitive civilization.

House Rejects Move To Put 'Gag' On Secretary Brannan

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan is running ahead of his critics because the House rejected a move to put a gag on him.

The House spurned a proposition late yesterday to curb his speech-making freedom before farm groups throughout the nation.

It turned down by a 39 to 47 vote, an amendment by Rep. Taber (R, N.Y.) to the omnibus appropriations bill which would have forced Brannan to ask Congress for permission to attend any farm group meetings at government expense.

The move to slap a gag on Brannan was spurred by a meeting of production and marketing administration committees in Minnesota last month at which Brannan spoke.

Expenses to bring the committee to the meeting were paid by the agriculture department. Republicans quickly leveled charges at Brannan that he used government dollars to sell the administration-backed Brannan farm plan.

U.S. POLICY IS FIRM TO KEEP SOVIET IN U.N.

Soviet States and the rest of the world.

"It is the house of a thousand doors" where formal and informal conversations can take place on all levels and topics. It is there that negotiations must proceed on the international control of atomic energy, the regulation of arms, and the provision of armed forces for U. N. as keeper of the peace."

Speaking to the Reserve Corps members of the First Army yesterday, Gross said that east-west agreement to end the cold war "depends upon the Soviet Union's abandoning the idea of aggression."

He said Russia is not likely to give up expansionist tendencies until Soviet leaders are convinced that the free world's strength makes this essential and that for self-preservation they must seek accord with other nations.

Gross added: "U. N. Not Helpless
"Too often we think that Soviet obstinacy makes the U. N. helpless. We forget that most U. N. activities go on quietly without Soviet participation, helping to create conditions in which men can be free and strong. In those conditions, Communism makes no converts, and Soviet imperialism makes no conquests."

Although Hoover was credited with "good intentions" in proposing the reorganization of U. N. activities, most western delegates frowned upon such a step as "dangerous and highly undesirable" at this stage of the cold war.

A European diplomat said: "Unfortunately, following out Mr. Hoover's proposal would mean the splitting of the two camps into armed worlds separated by a deadline which would be crossed sooner or later and bring on the inevitable war."

May Order Runoff
And there is a possibility that the NLRB may order a runoff election at Westinghouse's giant East Pittsburgh plant, which the CIO-IUE apparently captured 5,763 to 5,663. A total of 11,743 of 13,035 eligible workers voted, with 170 favoring no union.

Westinghouse will bargain with the union which captured a majority in each plant. Since 1943 the firm has held a national contract with the U. E.

Total votes in yesterday's nationwide election gave CIO-IUE 27,281 and the U. E. 22,817. Approximately 57,000 employees were eligible to vote.

KANSAS CITY MAYOR BEFORE U.S. PROBES

open field in both Kansas City and St. Louis.

Sen. Capelhart (R) Ind., asked if Kemp referred to "an interstate group". Kemp replied:

"The rumor includes an interstate situation. It is pure rumor. I can't prove it."

Kemp did say that he was convinced that because of appointments made by Gov. Forrest Smith certain groups had "entertained the high hopes that they would have influence, and gambling would be wide open". Kemp added:

"Their hopes did not materialize. As far as gambling is concerned, Kansas City is as tight as any other city."

Kemp admitted that "we have our problems" and Sen. Tobey (R) N. H. asked whether "some are not in the past tense"—a reference to the "two-Charle" killing. Kemp replied:

"They are, yes, sir. The manner of their solution was unfortunate, of course."

A well meaning newsboy in aiming the paper from a distance, misjudges and the paper finds its way to the roof.

LADIES DAY GOLF ENJOYED THURSDAY

Was there golf on the program at the New Castle Country club yesterday? That was the burning question among the lady golfers on Ladies Day as they regarded threatening clouds and looked at falling thermometers.

The answer was most definitely yes and what's more all who turned out are busily planning their next rounds. Several hearty foursomes and threesomes were featured as the ladies took their clubs in hand and made their 1950 debut. Not to be outdone by the men golfers they rolled up their initial scores. The ladies agreed that a little practice might be in order and next Thursday will see them out again, when the program of the day will be "Poker Golf".

FIRST NEED IS FACTS

General Eisenhower gave sound advice to newspaper editors and publishers, at a luncheon in New York the other day, when he urged straight factual reporting and honest interpretation of the news. Certainly, "only an informed public opinion can win the peace."

It is a fact that the American people are confused and bewildered, in large part because the post-war era, which promised peaceful reconstruction, has been marked by Soviet aggression, military and political.

In a free country people are entitled to all the information they can get, not only about the course of events in other countries but in their own Government. Their Government owes them a clear picture of its foreign policy; a clear picture of its national defense policy; a clear picture of its spending and tax policies.

The great majority of newspapers in America, we believe, are doing their level best to give their readers the facts, and interpretation of the facts, about complex events here and abroad. Yet there is no question that more information about Government policies is needed—and it is this field that Government itself can help dispel confusion.

As General Eisenhower said, in this critical time our Nation should not appear to outsiders as torn by divided counsels. If our people have the facts, and if they will stand united in the face of any and all dangers.

NEW LOOK IN ESPIONAGE

The Mata Hari and the cloak and dagger boys still have their place in the field of espionage but they are not the ones upon whom governments now rely. The really useful agents are the men and women who work in the open, know pertinent information when they see it, and are tireless in gathering it.

Touching these new methods of learning all about a potential enemy, U. S. News and World Report reveals that Russia now has legally in this country some 600 persons who may be regarded as espionage agents. Some are connected with the Soviet Embassy and the United Nations. The rest are representatives of Tass, the official Russian news-gathering organization, or of the Amtorg Trading Agency.

All are free to come and go as they please; to attend official functions in Washington, including press conferences; to buy maps and aerial photographs covering almost all parts of the United States; and, of course, to collect the great amount of data contained in government and corporation reports. It is only in the matter of discovering highly secret details about weapons, fortifications, and strategy that they are in the least bit handicapped and must resort to the traditional gumshoe work.

The liberty we accord these Russians show better than anything else the disregard of the red menace that still permeates Washington.

THREE R'S ARE SAFE

Critics of modern education are firmly convinced that children are not so firmly grounded today in the three R's as they were. Defenders of modern education sometimes seem to enter a nolle contendere to this charge when they reply by pointing to the great strides that have been made in making the child's social development keep pace with his academic progress. But one defender, Dr. George D. Strayer, professor emeritus of education at Columbia Teachers College, meets the charge head-on.

The three R's, he says, are better taught now than they ever were. Children today read more and they read better. They spell better. They write better and what they write has more life in it. Their addition and subtraction and multiplication and division will stand comparison with the results of arithmetic teaching in any previous period.

"People who criticize modern education," he says, "don't know what children are doing in the schools today." Dr. Strayer does know. Grown old now as an educational expert, he can also look back many, many years and compare the schools of the past with those of today. If he says children are being well grounded in the three R's, he is probably right.

Why, then, does the belief persist that the three R's are being neglected in present-day schools. No doubt, because parents simply aren't capable of remembering how badly they themselves read and wrote and ciphered when they were 8, like Sally, or 13, like Joe. When they were 8, or 13, they saw themselves with a child's eyes.

Now they judge Sally and Joe with an adult's eyes. The idea that their children should be dumb is inconceivable, naturally. But when they start wondering why they don't do better, they hear that teaching methods have changed since their day.

Near Washington, Ind., a motorboat collided with an auto. Sounds like the car might have been a sea-going hack.

Laborite Government Survives Test

The Laborite government in Great Britain has survived the first real major test of its right and power to rule and it is the unopposed consensus today that it will remain in office for the next five months at least.

Winston Churchill, vigorous and undaunted as always, commanded his Conservative forces in the House of Commons in two attempts to dislodge Socialist government.

On both occasions, he went down to defeat. The margin for labor rule and the nationalization that it implies was slim indeed. Votes on two measures seeking to condemn the budgetary policies of chancellor of the exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps were carried by the government 304 to 299.

An important element, however, is that the Liberal party, which strove for success in the February elections but wound up as a nebulous, uncertain factor, voted solidly with Churchill's Conservatives.

The votes indicate, therefore, that the Liberals failed even to achieve the "balance of power" that political observers had predicted for them.

They foreshadow also the likelihood that Labor will be able to carry on in any immediate future emergency. Provided, of course that its members of parliament turn out regularly on any issue at stake—in wheelchairs or otherwise.

Difficult To Define
The philosophy governing British political tactics sometimes is difficult to define.

Churchill picked out two common threads in the philosophy.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WAYS TO AID TIMID YOUTHS

Yesterday we considered the timid, lonely youth and his sufferings from self-consciousness. We saw that in order to help him we should not tell him it is his own fault but that we should find ways to help him; that we should try to help him see that he does not need to talk much in order to be comfortable and likable. Following up that suggestion, suppose we tell him something like this:

Listen carefully to what others in the group say. Prove that you are interested. You will respond naturally with your eyes, face, entire body. The more wholeheartedly attentive you are, the more each one who speaks will like you. See their approving response to you will make you feel more at ease. Eventually, without any effort at all, you may say something appropriate. Perhaps you will ask a question to induce the person speaking to say more. This question may make you feel relaxed. It may help you, of course, to read the daily newspaper and current magazines with a view to noting one or two items you feel sure would be of conversational interest. After you leave the group and are alone, don't let yourself dwell on what you suppose to be your mistakes or failures. Think rather of your successes. Name them one by one and be proud of them.

Widening Interests
We might, moreover, help this timid, lonely youth see how he can gain satisfactions through widening his interests in social skills; why he needs to make himself acquainted with interests and skills, and go more often where other youths are; and why he needs to force himself to do some of the very things he is prone to avoid. Of course we need to set the stage so he may improve in these ways. My bulletin, "The Lonely, Timid Youth," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

We parents and teachers can do most indirectly to help the lonely, timid youth as we work through other youths. Wonderful results have been achieved by counselors, teachers, even by parents, through their inspiring some other youths to work on this timid person.

Helping Adult
Accordingly, the helping adult, in a private conference with another carefully-chosen youth of the club or class, will say something like this: "You know Pete, you know how lonely he is and how some other young folk laugh about him and call him queer. Suppose you were in Pete's place. How would you feel? Don't you think you could help build up Pete so as to make him feel more comfortable, help him feel more comfortable among other youths? Don't you suppose you could induce him to attend more of the school activities? Perhaps you might get him to go out for practice in one of the sports. Sometimes, no doubt, when you and your friends are together for fun, you may hear some one refer to Pete in order to cause a laugh, thereby starting a chain of fun-making remarks about him. I wonder if it has occurred to you how much harm this practice can do, not only to Pete, but also to all who thus make fun of him. Perhaps, next time Pete's name is brought up in ridicule, you may wish to say that you believe this is cheap fun being at the expense of another person. You might help the rest of your group to think of Pete as they never thought of him before, to resolve therefore, not to make fun of him again, but rather to say something good about him, even to consider ways of helping him overcome his fears and become a happy person and better mixer."

He told me all that ever I did.—John 4:39.

Soviet Russia promises to be faithful to Red China, in its fashion. Or, as Groucho Marx once remarked in another connection, as true as a $2 cornet.—Winipeg Tribune.

From Me To You
By MESECALL
Here is an interesting item . . . and it's about an article that you can read in the May issue of FORTUNE . . . on the news stands today. On page 76 it says . . . "The Case of the Contented Steelworkers" . . . it sheds new light on the old problem of industrial happiness.

FORTUNE is a well written monthly magazine that contains many articles by men of prominence . . . concerning business and business practices . . . in fact it is a good publication to read and to keep on your reference shelf. This particular article that we mentioned above concerns the people of this county, especially those of Ellwood City, for the article is about Ellwood and the text of the article is taken from a book called Steeltown . . . which will be published by Harper.

We recommend this for your reading enjoyment . . . we like to read this kind of thing for it says to the world . . . many things. Lawrence county people should be proud of their reputation . . . especially labor-wise. The people who work in the many factories of Lawrence County are good thinkers . . . they needn't have outsiders tell them what is good for themselves . . . for this county is to the United States . . . what the United States is to the rest of the world.

Yes, we say again . . . read FORTUNE magazine for the month of May . . . Dr. Walker who wrote the story captured the true spirit . . . the spirit of cooperation that we, citizens of this county are mighty proud of . . . and we quote "Under these happy circumstances relations between the tube-mill management and the United Steelworkers local are amicably routine."

As we have said many times before . . . and will say until life itself it choked out . . . Lawrence County is a good place to work . . . a good place to live . . . a good place to raise a family . . . let's keep it that way.

Chaos Mounts Higher In Asia

WASHINGTON, April 28.—While this divided government quarrels over the issue of Communism here at home, the flames of revolt and impending chaos are mounting in the most remote corners of the world. That is the bandwagon psychology that leads volatile peoples to gravitate toward power and success in a period when changes are occurring with revolutionary speed.

Important To Remember
This is important to remember in light of the latest disaster to the forces of Nationalist China on Hainan Island. According to the New York Times, Nationalist forces were conservatively estimated at twice those of the invading Communists and the Nationalists had superior sea and air weapons. The Associated Press correspondent on the island reports that the capital fleet almost without a shot being fired in its defense as Nationalist armies melted away.

In Indo-China
In Indo-China no one ventures outside the cities without a heavy armed guard and then only in cars. Travelers at high rates of speed. The forces of Communism, plus banditry, are steadily wearing away the French army of 150,000 that has been holding the line. There is a real possibility that the United States will be called on for military economic assistance on a scale for which we are totally unprepared. It could be another but far more costly and extensive Greece dropped suddenly into the American lap.

Time For Action
The time is desperately overdue for tangible and immediate moves that would show we mean what we say. These moves may vary from country to country. The Philippine government may be encouraged to ask for the kind of American guidance that will mean greater stability in finance and in administration during a difficult transition period. In Indo-China and Burma it might be something as elemental as a few malaria-control projects to demonstrate the good will that is behind our professions of friendship.

One Man's Opinion
By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service)
Odd thing happened in West Virginia . . . three boys got lost in a cave and didn't find a single powdered egg.

Either this cave is unmarked on government maps or our cave sagacity still exceeds our egg sagacity.

But the news is that the list of persons available for top government jobs is exhausted and a list of people with brains is now being prepared.

The only trouble is most people with brains are exhausted too.

The President is willing to accept even Republicans in this crisis although it may be a wrench to have to admit that there are smart ones.

I haven't seen any ads but probably they read "Wanted . . . men with brains willing to get their beat out in government service."

It sounds like a glorious opportunity to serve but I know three people who have had their phones taken out and won't answer any mail postmarked Washington.

What's good and ill 'tis hard to say. Or should we frown or grin. We cannot tell how went the day Until the years roll in. For every man of science knows, Out of failure wisdom grows.

Man hasn't failed until the day He cries: "No more I'll try! 'Tis here I put my dream away. No further hope have I." If with the dawn he will begin To try again, he still may win. (Copyright, 1950, Edgar A. Guest)

Folks Of Fame
Ernst Lubitsch, motion picture producer and director, was born in Berlin, Germany, Jan. 28, 1892. He received his stage training under Max Reinhardt. While he worked as clerk in his father's store he studied acting, and at 19 Reinhardt gave him a small part. He played his first screen role in 1913; it was a comedy part. Five years later he produced Carmen, which was released in the United States. He then made DuBarry, starring Pola Negri, and other pictures. He came to the United States in 1923 to direct Mary Pickford in Russia. So This Is Paris, Lady Windermere's Fan, The Student Prince, etc., were made under his direction. His latest pictures were Heaven Can Wait, A Royal Scandal, Dragonwyck and Cluny Brown. He died Nov. 30, 1947.

A Possible Blunder

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—When Gen. Eisenhower was in Washington as Chief of Staff, he frequently got the press interview question: "General, do you believe the world is headed for war?" And invariably, Eisenhower would answer to this effect: "No, I don't believe we're necessarily headed for war, but we may very easily blunder into war."

Anybody who has followed the news of the Navy plane, presumably shot down by Russians on April 8th, has seen the development of a potential war-making blunder. Here is an incident, not so important in itself as in the manner in which it has been exploited. The loss of 10 American lives is automatically tragic, but need not be an international crisis unless the powers in being choose to make it one. The State Department has chosen to do so in this instance, and that makes the case worthy of more critical examination than it has generally received.

Thoroughly Emotional Treatment

First off, it ought to be noted that the State Department gave the matter a thoroughly emotional treatment rather than a rational one. On April 13th, without presenting the American public with any detailed set of facts, the State Department handed Russia an indignant and challenging note. Apology and indemnity were demanded, along with assurances that the outrage would not be repeated. Much stress was laid on the fact that the plane was unarmed, but there seems to be no denial that it was carrying photographic and radar equipment and was manned by electronic experts. It takes no military mind to understand that pictures and radar intelligence are just as warlike as machine guns.

More than the State Department has gone to some lengths to propound the abstract principle of freedom of the skies. This might be a tenable position if the plane had been a passenger carrier and if the event had taken place over undisputedly neutral territory. But the case involves a war plane, performing at the very least a training flight, over territory which we deem it prudent to patrol. The territory, whether it was land or sea, lies flush against the Iron Curtain frontier where there is always a reasonable expectation of danger. The principle, then, is far from being as over-simplified as the State Department has tried to make it.

After Impassioned Speech

Following the exchange of notes, the U. S. Senator voted suitable awards to the plane's lost crewmen. This was done on the motion, and by the Democratic floor-leader, Senator McCarthy, who took the State Department's summary of the case at face value. Three Republican Senators—Cain, Donnell and Mundt—ventured very cautiously to suggest further inquiry. They did not, however, vote against the Lucas resolution since it simply covered the matter of posthumous awards. Their extremely cautious curiosity got no encouragement from the Republican floor-leader, Senator Wherry, who evidently judged the time and the subject matter improper for a party fight.

But when all is said and done, the official explanations have not been satisfactory. They suggest a number of reasons why the State Department chose to take an emotional approach and to base it on an over-simplified principle.

State Department On Trial

The State Department—let's face it—is currently on trial in the court of public opinion. The Alger Hiss misfortune, the homosexual disclosures, the McCarthy charges all cry out for a good, wholesome display of patriotism. Here was the violent loss of 10 American lives, presumably by enemy action, and there stood the unrepentant and unpopular Russian government. State Department officials would have been less than human not to welcome such a chance to vent clearing indignation and to make it impossible to believe that this opportunity was not a factor in handling the case.

Moreover, and much more to its credit, the State Department is currently engaged in the laudable attempt to restore bipartisanship in foreign affairs. Both President Truman and Secretary Acheson now realize that the Marshall Plan, up for its third year approval, stands in some danger and that the entire foreign program is in desperate need of whole-hearted Congressional support. Without doubt the handling of the plane incident has helped the Administration cause and emphasized the need for unity. A few bursts of enemy machine gun fire has done more than many speeches and White House appeals.

War-Making Blunder?

Finally, there are those in the State Department and elsewhere who believe that the sooner we fight World War III, or at least a showdown, the better our chance of victory and survival. In the opinion of this group a war-making blunder is a blessing, since it will arouse the public to a Pearl Harbor pitch. According to this line of thought, the State Department did right to demand an apology which Russia cannot give and which we cannot extract without use of force. Very likely this single incident will not suffice to create war, or a showdown, but it lays a firm foundation for future development. Another American plane molested, a Russian submarine sighted or sunk, and the chips are down. If there is danger of blundering into war, as Gen. Eisenhower used to suggest, one other observation seems to be in order. Not all such blunders are unintentional.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Like all other columnists, not a day passes that I don't receive communications from press agents (now more euphemistically called public relations counselors), extolling the virtues of products and persons and asking me to give them what they consider well-merited publicity.

Most of them go into the waste basket.

However, on my desk today is a letter which I cannot possibly throw away unheeded.

The sender of the letter, a chap by the name of Bert Nevins, is so modest about his client, so sympathetic in his appeal, that I almost shed tears when I read it. Unfortunately the event for which he wanted my cooperation is past. I dawdled too long to write about it in time.

But there will be another one next year, and in the meantime, if you cannot celebrate "National Donut Week" in 1950, you can at least help him by consuming as many donuts as you can stand and digest between now and next April.

The donut became respectable. Society started to dunk. Governors and prominent men and women dunked openly in public. They had their pictures taken dunking donuts.

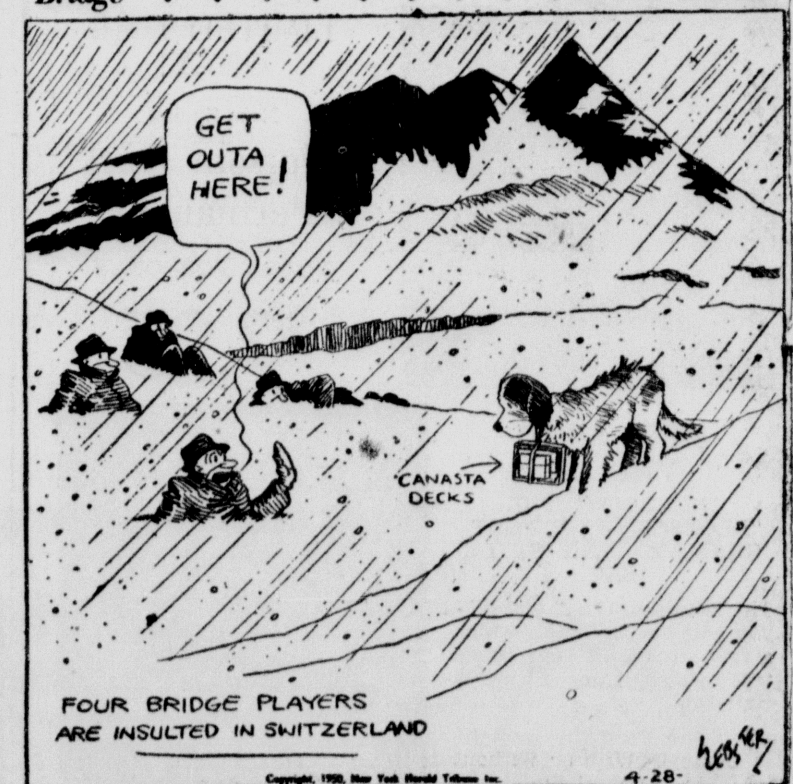

Finally even Emily Post approved of it as "provided the donut is first broken in half." Now comes another epoch-making announcement.

The National Donut Committee has started a breakfast-in-bed movement!

They have made a survey. Only

Woman's Clubs Make Plans To Tour Allegheny Forest

Mrs. Charles J. Runk, chairman of Conservation and Gardens for the Pennsylvania Federation of Woman's club, has sent a specially engraved invitation for a springtime trip for the New Castle Woman's club to Mrs. C. R. Brenner, president of the local club.

All conservationists, club women and their friends are invited to take the trek through the Allegheny National Forest and be the guests of the United States Forest Service on a "Show Me Trip" on May 2. In addition to the trip, the group will be shown one of the most outstanding Tree Farms in Pennsylvania, which is located on the private property of the Armstrong Forest Company. Edward Erhart, president of the Armstrong Company, will be host for the occasion.

Vast Area

Naturally there won't be time to view the entire 57,000 acres of woodland, from which pulp-wood is harvested. Mr. Erhart will explain that what we take for granted as "only a piece of paper" has required much applied conservation of the woodlands as well as other methods to make it the much needed and flourishing business that it is.

Luncheon will be served at Cooksburg Inn, at Cook Forest's State Park, which is a part of the Pennsylvania Forest and Water department's vast timbered area. Regional Forester, Merritt Harding, and Ralph Chamberlain, of the department of Forest and Water in Harrisburg, will show the cleaning-up and forest sanitation work that is being done on the ancient virgin pine and hemlocks in the park.

Control Dam

The group will also be shown one of the finest recreational areas in the east, at Twin Lakes in the Allegheny National Forest. From there one may look down on Tionesta Dam, one of the best flood control dams in the area. Come to "Heart's Content", the bit of paradise that has been made possible through the efforts of the Pennsylvania Federation of Woman's clubs, when they purchased it for $6500 from Wilkins Farm at the front door of "Heart's Content". The Federation has given it to the U. S. Forest Service to make it possible for the public to see and enjoy the beauties of the area.

small. Critics in Congress reply that they have never been consulted about a program. And they ask, with good reason, why the department hasn't gone ahead with the facilities already at its disposal. Over all is the screaming obligato of McCarthyism, like a distracting blast on a steam calliope.

This is not "cold war." Under present circumstances that phrase becomes a dangerous deception. Cold war implies a steadiness, a resolution, a willingness to sacrifice and at least a degree of unity. Those elements are not written large on the American landscape at this moment.

one out of five thousand persons eats breakfast in bed on Sundays.

That's because the average American does not realize the sheer delight of eating donuts in bed. (Donuts don't crumble nearly as much as toast.)

A nationwide publicity campaign will be conducted to make breakfast-in-bed a national Sunday ritual.

An underwear manufacturer has created a special "Dunk-jama"—"a cheerfully patterned pajama featuring the coffee and donuts motif in its print."

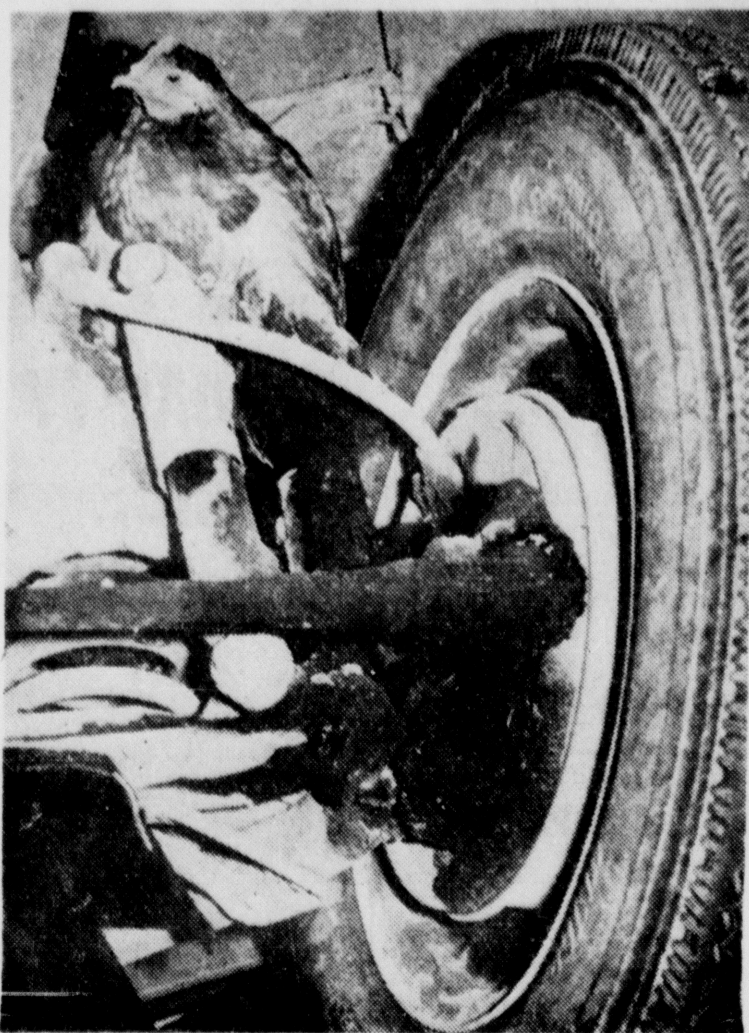

Sounds fine, doesn't it? The only thing I can't figure out is this: If we are all going to have our breakfast in bed, who's going to prepare and serve it?

TRAFFIC TROUBLE

CLEVELAND—Warning to pedestrians: Be exceptionally cautious when approaching an intersection. The Cleveland Street and Traffic Safety Lighting Bureau reported that thirty percent of the 32,000 traffic deaths last year occurred at intersections. More than 9000 persons were injured at intersections in 1949.

A RIDE TO MARKET

—Acme Telephoto

UTICA, N. Y.—A ride to market—here's where this rooster was cooped up for his ride to the market, but was discovered after the driver of the truck, carrying 100 other barnyard strutters heard a peculiar squeak in the axle of his truck. The driver stopped for a grease job and after combing truck found the rooster, the new squeak.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Signs of the times: A truck belonging to a New England hauling company, stalled in traffic in New Haven, had this declaration tacked on the back door: "This truck stops for red lights, railroad crossings, blondes and brunettes. For redheads it will back up 50 feet. A lingerie shop in Beverly Hills advertised, "Destiny may shape your ends, but if it doesn't, we have the best girdles in town."

On a farm near Pontiac, Illinois, this sign is posted at the entrance gate: "Beware of shooting anything on this place that isn't moving. It's probably my hired man." And a garage in Birmingham, with an eye on trade from women drivers, uses this poster: "Ladies: If through no fault of your own, a dent or scratch appears on the fenders of the family car, bring it in and we will destroy all evidence before your husband gets home from the office."

A chronic eavesdropper overheard this gem aboard a Fifth Avenue bus: "You know, I wouldn't say anything about Dolly unless I could say something good. And, oh, brother, is this good..."

Brannan Predicts More Spending Before Farm Problem Solved

WASHINGTON, April 28—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Brannan predicts much more tax money will be spent before a completely workable farm price support program is found.

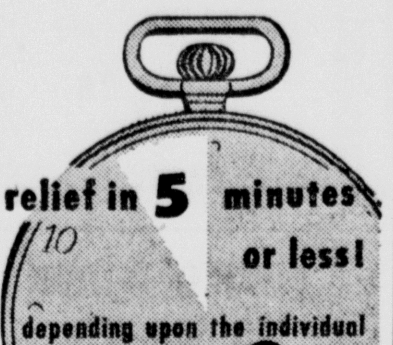

Brannan says his department will spend millions more in its drive to help farmers adjust to peacetime economy. He says the history of price supports is one of trial and error, and declares:

"And although we will spend a lot of money, we eventually will solve the farm problem. I am sure we will solve it."

Despite the money lost on supporting farm prices, Brannan says the nation is in an "enviable" position. This country, he says, is able to produce more of any commodity it can consume, export and carry over to other years.

He says: "I would rather work with that kind of a problem than one of scarcity."

PAIN KILLERS

When we get a pain, we think that we should take a pain pill right away.

Maybe that is not a very good way to do.

Pain is a danger signal. It is a red light. It means stop, look and listen. It means that there is something wrong which causes the pain.

When a mechanic hears a noise in his engine he does not stop up his ears. He lifts the hood and tries to find out what makes the bad noise.

When we get a pain we should try to find out what causes it before we yell for aspirin or headache pills.

The detectives spent most of their last few working days riding the top of a freight elevator in the Hecht Co., watching the elevator operator through holes bored in the car roof.

They saw the operator, Theodore Golod, 27, pocket some $366 in change when he was supposed to be carrying it from the basement to the second floor cashier.

Golod pleaded guilty to larceny in Municipal court, and the court is waiting a probation report before passing sentence.

Government Backs Centipede Grass

For Deep South

WASHINGTON, April 28—(INS)—The agriculture department is plumping "seedless" centipede grass as the best lawn grass "ever available" in the deep south.

The centipede grass was long considered to be practically without seed. But after much experimenting, fertilizing and clipping the department says researchers have shown how 150 pounds or more of seed may be grown in sufficient quantity to make it generally available soon throughout the deep southland.

Police To Halt Demonstrations By Students

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—More than 200 police and mounted troopers were ordered to New York City hall today to guard against new turbulent student demonstrations demanding higher pay for teachers.

Another force of police was sent to Gracie Mansion, official residence of Mayor William O'Dwyer, and school principals were asked to inform police the moment they learned of marching student columns.

The board of education began an investigation into the violent demonstrations officially estimated to have involved 21,000 boys and girls from 21 high schools.

Yesterday, in the third day of the protests at City hall and in front of various schools, eight teen-agers were arrested and one youth and a policeman were injured.

The marching students overturned cars and mounted police repeatedly charged the jeering, shouting youngsters.

The New York Board of Estimate yesterday approved the sum of $6,700,000 to provide salary increases of $150 a year for the teaching staffs and $250 for high school teachers appointed before July 1, 1947.

Teachers' organizations are demanding a $600 a year increase. They declared they will continue their cessation of voluntary after-school activities until they get the increase demanded.

Pearl Buck Thinks U.S. Should Aid Starving Chinese

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—(INS)—Pearl Buck, whose writings about China made her famous, thinks this nation should find a means of supplying food and clothing to the destitute Chinese. Communists as well as Nationalists.

The Pulitzer and Nobel prize winner declared that "all the Chinese people need help—and badly."

"I don't maintain that this aid be channeled through the government. It's too late for that. We don't know about China now, so it's hard to make an intelligent decision about policy."

Miss Buck maintained that the American people would contribute to a Chinese "friendship train" in the same generous manner they did for the people of Europe last year.

"There's no reason why people can't maintain relations with people," she said, "even if governments don't maintain relations with governments. After all, ideology vanishes when the food supply does too."

Miss Buck, author of "The Good Earth," "Dragonseed," and "Pavilion on the Water," spent much of her life in the Orient studying and teaching, but she doesn't plan to return.

"This country has too much to offer," she said, "I haven't been to China in 15 years and I don't think I'll return."

Treasury Moves To Ease Customs To Aid Foreigners

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—The treasury moved today to ease customs regulations on a broad front to aid foreign exporters shipping their goods into the United States.

Treasury Secretary Snyder sent to congress his recommendations for the changes in a new bill—the result of an exhaustive study by the customs bureau, the treasury and other government departments.

The measure is designed to help foreign nations, particularly the Marshall plan countries, increase their dollar earnings by boosting sales to America. Treasury officials conceded the bill would probably bring loud opposition from some industry groups.

Generally the bill would simplify and reduce government red tape for foreign shippers.

Duty rates are not changed under the proposals but the formulas for figuring the tariffs are modified on some commodities.

Angina pectoris and disease of the heart's blood vessels are specific disorders that should be carefully checked before flying.

STORM CITY HALL, DEMAND TEACHER PAY RAISES

A VOCIFEROUS THROG of New York pupils tries to push past police to storm Mayor William O'Dwyer's office in city hall to demand pay raises for their teachers. Police place park benches across path to halt them, part of a "mob" of 3,000 demanding $600-$1,200 annual pay increases for the teachers. Turndown of pay increase requests of the teachers themselves, who receive salaries ranging from $2,500 to $5,400 a year, resulted in their refusal to supervise extracurricular activities such as spring proms and athletic events, which had to be canceled. Housing Bill Makes GI Loans More Liberal Local Veterans Administration officials today issued the following statement concerning GI housing loan changes that resulted from recent Congressional action.

Officer in charge G. C. Barna said: "More than 13 million World War II veterans who have not as yet availed themselves of Loan Guaranty rights provided in the GI Bill will find their home loan benefits greatly enhanced by provisions contained in the Housing Act of 1950, just signed by the President."

"Regulations and procedures to put the new provisions into effect now are being drafted by the VA and will be issued as soon as possible."

Principal changes are as follows:

(1) The amount of VA guaranty on an eligible veteran's home loan is increased to 90% of the loan up to a maximum guarantee of $7,500. Previously the guarantee was 50% up to a maximum of $4,000.

(2) Unremarried widows of deceased veterans who died in service, or from service connected causes after discharge are made eligible for GI loans to which their husbands would have been entitled.

(3) Combination FHA-GI loans to veterans will be eliminated after a future date to be announced.

(4) The maximum period of time over which home loans may be made repayable is extended from 25 to 30 years to provide for lower monthly payments.

(5) Effective 90 days from the enactment of the law, the VA is authorized to make direct government loans at 4% interest to eligible veterans in certain areas where 4% home financing is not available from other sources. Such veterans must meet all the qualifications for a regular GI loan, including credit and income requirements. No direct loan may exceed $10,000 and a total of $150,000,000 is made available until July 1, 1951 for this purpose.

"Veterans are reminded that eligibility for GI loans will exist until July 25, 1957."

Marshall Plan Aid For Spain Not Approved

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Then Senate late Thursday defeated an amendment to include Spain in the Marshall program and authorize a $50,000,000 loan to the Spanish government.

The vote was 42 to 35. The provision, an amendment to the $3,372,000,000 Foreign Aid Bill, was sponsored by Sen. McCarran (D) Neb., and Brewster (R) Minn.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex. opposed the amendment but said he believes President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson will have no objection to an Export-Import Bank loan to Spain if it is undertaken separate from the Foreign Aid Bill.

Connally said inclusion of aid to Spain in the bill would have a bad effect on Marshall Plan countries.

But Connally said that he had a conference with the president and Acheson this morning. He explained that he could not quote the president, but he added:

"I believe that if Spain makes application to the Export-Import Bank and complies with the terms there will be no objection by the president or the secretary."

DRAMA OF DESPAIR

PITTSBURGH, April 28.—(INS)—The props he left behind today gave evidence of a Pittsburgh man's drama of despair.

On the floor, a shotgun with one shell discharged.

On the bed, a note giving instructions for disposal of his property.

The dead man on the floor was identified as John Cook, 38. Officers said he had been in ill health.

Nature has again come up with one of her unusual births. Bovine triplets were born on the farm of Charles Scott, R. D. 5, East Brook road, recently. The three female Guernsey calves are pictured above looking almost alike. Triplet calves come in every so many thousand bovine births, but when they are all the same sex, that is very unusual. The calves have already been named. From now on they will be known as: Linda, Hilda and Matilda. The photographer doesn't know which is which in the picture.

Speakers For
State EventA. F. Of L. Sessions
In Philadelphia

Second Week In May

HARRISBURG, April 28—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor pulled out all stops to line up a formidable list of speakers for its 48th annual convention in Philadelphia May 8-12. The roster is sprinkled liberally with top names of national and state labor and political leaders. Heading the elected officials from Pennsylvania are Gov. James H. Duff and U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers. They are backed by House minority leader Hiram G. Andrews (D) Cambria; state Sen. John Dent (D) Westmoreland, and speaker of the House Heribert J. Sorg (R) Elk. Employment and unemployment compensation bureau director A. J. Caruso; Milton Eisenhower, newly appointed president of the Pennsylvania State college and bonus bureau director Clyde E. Rankin are also on the speakers' roll call.

State milk control commissioner John J. Snyder got his assignments mixed up when appearing before the Public Utility Commission as counsel for several groups opposing the 22 percent railroad commuter fare boost. In pleading his case, Snyder said he represented 58 "producers" (milk) from one area and 60 "producers" from another. He caught himself in time to straighten the record but the slip passed unnoticed during the session.

Spring officially arrived at the Capitol this week. And its not only in the popping buds on the hundreds of trees dotting Capitol Park. Workmen are engaged in tidying up the outside of the buildings and the spacious grounds. The felt-like green carpets of grass are being improved and gardeners are planting patches of flowers in the spots most likely to effect symmetry. The huge panoramic statuary guarding the entrance to the main capitol building is undergoing its annual spring scrubbing with washers furiously bending their elbows to slosh their way through the winter's accumulation of layers of coal dust. The 76-year-old perennial peanut man, John Staley, expects business to boom when the milder weather moves in permanently. He sagely observes that during the winter the park pigeons, chief consumers of his product, must have multiplied by at least 50 percent.

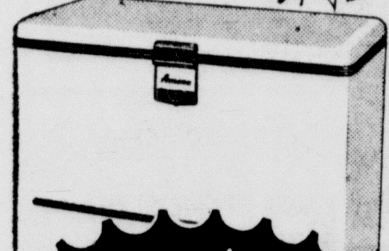

Pennsylvania's road improvement program is off to a flying start with a total of 74 contracts for $38,894,709 awarded for the period January 1 to April 15. The four months total is expected to shoot even higher by May 1 with several other contracts scheduled for letting. In addition, work is in progress on 90 contracts representing $52,799,819 that were not completed by the first of the year. Despite unfavorable spring weather with ice and freezing temperatures, particularly in the northern tier of counties, contractors are pushing ahead on schedule, reported highways secretary Ray F. Smock.

Meet Monday At Castlewood

Civic Association
Members To Gather

Castlewood Civic Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday, May 1, at 8 o'clock DST in the East New Castle Grange hall.

While being a new organization the fact is very much in evidence that the Castlewood association will touch many phases of community life. Officers have expressed their surprise at the interest shown by the citizens with every one being more than anxious to contribute their share of responsibility to the functioning of the group.

Program For Youth

At recent meetings considerable time has been given to a general discussion of a program for the youth of the community and it has been expressly stated by the officers that any one with a point of view on the subject be sure to attend and make their views known.

Being cognizant of the fact that in it's youth are the future citizens the local association is determined that it shall set up a model agency to act in that respect.

Various committees have been active during the past month and several interesting reports are to be expected with renewed emphasis on the recruiting of new members. The public is invited.

Icebergs Promise Trouble In Atlantic

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—Ships crossing the north Atlantic this spring and summer will have to make the widest oceanic detours in years.

The Navy's hydrographic office said that icebergs from the Newfoundland banks were the worst since 1939. Ships on the North America-north Europe run started veering south to avoid the icebergs in March, while they usually avoid the detour until April.

A severe iceberg year would keep the menaces to navigation in shipping lanes as late as August, the Navy said.

Canada Envoy?

STANLEY WOODWARD, close friend of the President and chief of protocol in the State department, is reported in Washington to have been chosen new ambassador to Canada. He will replace Laurence A. Steinhardt, killed in a plane crash. (International)

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 28.—They asked us to come out and watch these six gals from the stone age perform a prehistoric hootchy-kooch and all we can say right here and now is that Arthur Murray is nothing but a wilted wallflower.

A guy named Joe was parked in one corner of the sound stage belting the bejeepers out of an assortment of king-size tom-toms while the half-dozen dancing doli-les made like a flock of India rubber ladies with hot-foots.

They were wearing long-haired wigs and not much else. Like a lot of Lady Godivas whose horses had galloped away. Although in this instance the babes were covering plenty of ground minus any means of transportation.

Not Minsky's

The guy named Joe kept trying to swat the drums to shreds and the dance director, a cutie pie named Bella Lewitsky, who was not wearing too many duds, either, hollered in tempo "one-two! one-two!" while the sisters shimmed. Every once in a while Bella would bellow:

"Knock off the bumps and grinds! This isn't Minsky's. It'll never pass the Johnston office."

All this hassle, it might be explained, was rehearsal for a forthcoming flicker entitled "Prehistoric Women", which has to do with females who operated in the year 20,000 B. C. They hate men, and their secret weapon, the A-slingshot, is utilized to bump off citizens of the opposite sex who will not become their slaves.

Shawlee of Forest Hill, L. I.; Mara Lynn of Muncie, Ind., and Judy Landon of Chicago.

Every Little Movement

Every little movement of the number which had a meaning of its own was for a thing called "the war club dance". When it finally is ganderized upon the screen there will be a bunch of guys in the background tied to trees, having been captured by the fillies to be beaten into servitude.

Bella Lewitsky finally hollered to the dancing daughters to take a brief break and the guy named Joe promptly went to sleep on his tomtoms and Sam X. Ababanel, author of the epic, beckoned to Laurette Luez.

Poets might describe Miss Luez as a striking beauty with raven tresses, rosebud lips, ivory skin and pearly dentures. We will only say that the kid certainly must have been at the front of the line when Mother Nature was passing out female upholstery.

Laurette took off her wig and said "how-ja do?" and before Jackie Robinson could have pronounced his name she allowed as how:

Engaged To Goldwyn

She is engaged to marry Sam Goldwyn, Jr., she has lived in Hawaii, Japan, Java, Burma, China, the federated Malay states and like practically everybody else in the world eventually wound up in California. She is 21, is being groomed for stardom, never wears stockings and claims she got her first kiss when she tested for "Anna and the King of Siam."

Bella Lewitsky shouted:

"Come on, girls, let's try the 'dance of the full moon'."

Miss Luez, who hopes to change her name to Goldwyn before next

Michelmas, put on her wig and joined the other chicks in a new routine of wriggling in tune to the thumping tempos of the guy named Joe.

"Ain't this a heck of a way to earn a living?" asked Mr. Ababanel.

We had to admit that it certainly beat a lot of things, but we couldn't think what at the moment.

Building Permits For Residential

Units Hit New High

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—Construction permits for residential units reached an all-time high in Pennsylvania last month, the State Department of Labor and Industry reveals.

Dollar volume for residential building authorized in March soared to $36,779,263, the department said.

Permits were granted for 4,869 dwelling units, 87.9 per cent more than in February.

Increased activity also was reported for construction of non-residential buildings with issuance of 674 permits for structures costing $8,856,370. This was a 98.7 per cent gain over February, but only 8.2 per cent more in dollar valuation.

The department figures were based on reports from 359 municipalities.

The oldest operating lighthouse in the United States is at Sandy Hook, N. J. It was erected in 1764.

St. Louis Army Finance Center Being Probed

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(INS)—The House un-American activities committee may be called to investigate allegations that communists have been employed by the Army at its St. Louis finance center.

This was disclosed today by Rep. Karst (D Mo., chairman of a House post office and civil service subcommittee which has been investigating charges of fraud and mismanagement at the center.

Karst said that he is considering asking the un-American activities committee to investigate the communist phase of the charges. He said:

"I think that they would find that communists have been employed and they're better equipped than we are to bring out those facts."

The Missouri congressman also said that an interim report dealing with fiscal mismanagement is being prepared by his group.

Charge Overpayments
The finance center has been accused by the general accounting office of making overpayments totalling at least 160 million dollars in family allowances to service men.

The center is under investigation by Comptroller General Lindsay Warren on the charges of fraud and mismanagement and the Army and Civil Service Commission are looking into the charges of communism.

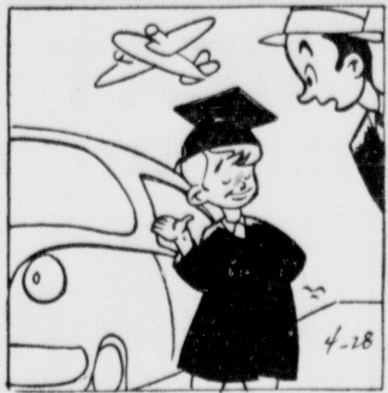

The Defense department also announced that an intensive investigation has been in progress since the first of the year and that "until it is complete, and the facts are ascertained, there will be no further comment."

In February the Civil Service Commission instructed the Army to dismiss Joseph H. Liebman as director of personnel at the finance center. The commission also directed that Liebman's eligibility for administrative work be "cancelled."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

KIDS AS EXPERTS

Can you tell a Pontiac from a Buick or a Ford from a Chevrolet without reading the name plate? Does the shape of a Conair airplane seem different to you than that of a modernized DC-3? Do you know the names of all the streets in your section of town? Probably not. But it is very likely that 10-year-old Johnny knows all this and much more.

Yes, kids are often quite expert in identifying things around them. They would have made much better plane "spotters" in World War II than most of the adults who were on the job. And they know the names and records of ball-players almost as well as the sports writers. And as for movie stars—well, just try them out.

All this sort of information may not seem very important to you but it is to the kids. We grown-ups would do well to show our appreciation of their areas of expertise. Many a famous scientist has, as a child, been in the ranks of these experts. And whether or not the child expert becomes famous later, his knowledge deserves our praise.

Two School Nurses Awarded Scholarships For Training Course

Mrs. Eleanor Birt, RN, and Mrs. Isabel Craig, RN, county school nurses, were awarded scholarships for three weeks training course at the Pennsylvania State college by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health society.

The two county school nurses were selected by the state society because of their fine work with the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society. Very few scholarships were awarded by the state, it is reported by Mrs. Jane M. Cochran, executive secretary of the county TB society.

Others from the county to attend the training course in July are Miss Bernice McGee, who was awarded a scholarship by the Ellwood City society, and Miss Marie Douglas, who was awarded a scholarship by the county society.

'When To Buy' Subject Of Babson's Discussion

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1950—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 28.—As soon as I talk business conditions with anyone out here—banker, manufacturer, merchant, farmer or wageworker—he asks: "How long do you think present good conditions can last?" They all seem to realize that the country—and especially wages and prices—are on an artificially high basis.

What Would Cause a Collapse?
It will not be our banking system, nor in fact any of the things which have brought on previous depressions. The most prevalent belief is that the next business collapse will be brought about by competing labor leaders and unreasonably high taxes. Through-out the central west, a severe crop failure, lasting two or three years, is most feared. Of course, an attack by Russia could make an awful dent in the stock market.

Personally, I do not look for a "bust," or even a panic during the next year or two. My fear is of a slow "erosion," caused by increasing competition, reduced profits and declining sales. There is a limit to the number of houses, autos, televisions, refrigerators, etc., which families can buy either for cash or on installments. We are fast approaching this limit. When retail sales fall off, employers must lay off workers. This increasing unemployment results in still fewer sales, more employment and finally we will be confronted by 15,000,000 unemployed and a dead stock market. An excess of new labor-saving machinery could also hasten this "business erosion" until unemployment gets adjusted there.

What the Charts Show
According to the Babsonchart which covers all sections of the country a business depression could be expected anytime. For over ten years business has been above the normal line. When this Babsonchart is broken down, it is found that it is made up of four cycles. Each of these are of different duration. These have been worked out in detail by two famous economists—Edward R. Dewey and Edwin F. Dakin.

The longest of these cycles runs for 54 years; the second longest for 18 years; the third longest for nine years and the shortest for 41 months. Ordinarily, throughout the past century these cycles often reach their high and low points at different times and hence neutralize one another. This is the reason I depend upon my Composite Chart. But a study of these four independent charts by Dewey and Dakin indicates that they all may reach their low points about 1952. If so, those who are saving up to buy a home or stocks or other things, for lower than present prices, have only about two more years to wait.

What About Russia?
A discussion of when the next business depression is due, must consider the cold war in which we are now engaged. In fact, it almost looks as if we are still fighting World War II. Certainly as a war measure, our government cannot afford to let this country suffer from serious unemployment, failures and a collapsed stock market until we have certain peace. This might come through Stalin's death, a Russian revolution, or through compromise due to mutual fear of the H-bomb.

Until the present cold war ends, our country MUST keep sending billions to Europe; MUST speed up production of armaments; MUST support farm prices and MUST help small business. In short, I see no serious business or stock market collapse so long as the cold war continues. I say this irrespective of what economists or political leaders have to say. Hence, I believe that Joe Stalin is the only one who can answer correctly our question: When will be time to buy houses, commodities and stocks cheap? In fact, even he does not now know! I, however, do not believe that 1950 will offer this opportunity.

Farmers Are Optimists
The farmers out here are fairly optimistic. Most of them are out of debt and many have good bank accounts. During the past few years they have been buying equipment, repairing their buildings and improving their soil. They feel that even as prices of farm products further decline—which they expect—Congress will treat the farmers fairly.

Only two things these farmers fear: one is another long drought which may come anytime; the other thing which worries them is whether Mr. Truman has the right advisors. I find out here a very strong hope that General Eisenhower will be their next President.

Every policeman who ever arrests a criminal in the act is, for some reason, either a "veteran police officer" or a "rookie."—Dakur, Ill., Herald.

GOOD SUPPLEMENTARY PASTURES IMPORTANT

For lush grazing, even in hot midsummer months when most grasses are short, there is nothing to beat a Ladino clover-orchard grass mixture.

A pound of Ladino clover per acre may be mixed with a somewhat reduced seeding of other clovers, and together with 4 pounds of orchard grass, may be broadcast in the spring or winter grain, or sown with oats. If the season is favorable, some grazing may be obtained the same year as seeded, but too much should not be expected until it is well established.

Such seedings are long-lived as well as productive, but Ladino requires liberal fertilization and will not survive close and continuous grazing. It must be divided and grazed by rotation, giving it a chance to recover after being pastured off.

If extra grazing is not needed in early summer, a crop of hay or grass silage can be harvested early. Both Ladino clover and orchard grass make a vigorous second growth and are ready to graze early in July. An acre of such pasture on fertile soil, if carefully managed, will help take care of two or three cows.

FLOWERING SHRUBS SPRING FAVORITES
With the arrival of spring—and indoor flower shows and outdoor displays—interest for many flower lovers centers in the flowering shrubs and trees, such as the ornamental crabapple and Japanese cherry. Spring is planting time and many home owners will be adding decorative plantings to their grounds. The following are suitable crabapple varieties for most places in Lawrence county: Hopacrab (attains height of 12 feet, has red flowers); Parkman crabapple (15 feet, pink); Purple crab (15 feet, purplish bark and fruit); Scheidecker crabapple (20 feet, yellow fruit). Other interesting varieties of crabapples are Redvein crabapple, Eley Purple crab, and Carmine crabapple.

Outstanding among the flowering cherries are the deep pink (Kofugen); double pink (Kwanan); Siebold cherry (Naden), and Paul Wholer cherry. Many of these flowering cherries are to be found in nearby parks and along lakes and river embankments. Usually they can be obtained locally from reliable nurseries.

Among privet hedges Regal's privet has been a favorite. It develops a natural drooping effect and can be sheared. The Amur-River privet, a tall growing, very hardy type, can be used to screen off barnyards, undesirable buildings of views. The Ibbotum privet is very similar to the tender type of California privet and can be kept sheared.

HOW MUCH PAINT
On a smooth, porous wall, one gallon of paint will cover about 400 square feet of area.

Church Honors Two At Volant

Methodist Church
Scene Of Program

A community "get together" was held in the Volant Methodist church Thursday evening honoring two well-known residents of the town. Mrs. E. D. Thompson, who is leaving soon to make her home in New Castle, and Rev. H. A. Silvis, pastor of the Methodist church, whose birthday is April 28.

Mrs. Thompson, familiarly known as "Marty" has been a resident of Volant for quite some time, coming here from her home town of Pulaski 51 years ago to attend Volant college and making her home with the W. J. Allen family. Mrs. Thompson has been a faithful member of the Methodist church and a primary teacher for a number of years.

The following program was presented to a well filled house, with Ellis Hillard, program chairman:

Hymn, "Blessed Assurance," by the group; recitation, Patty Thompson; accordion solo, Timmy Allen; solo, Carolyn Arrow; song, "I Love Those Dear Hearts and Gentle People," Presbyterian Girls, accompanied by Doris Gaugliff; quip, conducted by Grant Cooper, with John Allen and Harold Shaw, leaders; solo, "Under His Wing," Wallace Guy, accompanied by Mrs. H. A. Silvis; song by Junior choir, Alice Leannett, accompanist; piano solo, "The Glow Worm," Paige Wilkins; remarks, Clarence Drake; remarks, Dr. Thomas Morris, superintendent of Grove City district.

The program closed with several selections by the male quartet of Grace Methodist church of Grove City.

Mrs. Thompson was presented with a lovely table lamp as a farewell gift and Rev. H. A. Silvis was presented with a white shirt and a necktie in recognition of his birthday.

Following the presentation of the gifts the group was invited to the dining room where refreshments were served.

Union Township Plans Amusement Tax As School Aid

Union township is preparing to adopt a ten per cent amusement tax to aid in raising moneys for the support of schools.

The Board of School directors of the township has advertised its intention of imposing a ten per cent tax upon each admission to any public entertainment or amusement held within the township.

This will include motion pictures, football, baseball and basketball games, any theatrical performance professional or amateur to which an admission is charged, night clubs where floor shows are presented, in short anything which is considered an entertainment or amusement.

The board gives as its reason for the imposition of the 10 per cent amusement tax, is that it is necessary to have more revenues to provide for new buildings, acquiring of new equipment and employment of additional teachers. It is estimated the receipts from the imposition of the ten per cent amusement tax will be approximately $2,000.

Any large extension of government into business affairs—no matter what the pretense and no matter how the extension is labeled—will be bound to promote waste and put a curb on our prosperity and progress.—Thomas A. Edison.

Suggestive Literature And Pictures Are Assailed

By ED HAUCK

HARRISBURG, April 28.—Suggestive magazine literature and pictures today were assailed by two top state law enforcement officials who branded them a menace to youthful morals and a contributor to the current wave of sex crimes.

Samuel Siegle, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs' association, and Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of the state police, said dealers and publishers should clean up their publications.

Should Not Be Sold

"Some of these magazines and literature are detrimental and a menace and should not be sold," Siegle said.

"The association proposes to push legislation in the next session of the legislature to ban lewd, obscene, suggestive literature that can be construed detrimental to minors."

Wilhelm said he probably would favor such legislation.

Siegle said he realizes many people will confuse the issue on such legislation with encroachment of freedom of the press.

"We're not out to limit freedom of public prints but at the same time this freedom shouldn't be abused by the people who use it," Siegle asserted. "There should be some measure to guard against disease of youthful character in the same way we guard against disease of the law."

Should Be Improved

"We should find some means of improving some of the literature and photo magazines on the market today that, while not in direct violation of the law, have a tendency to lower morals and in particular those of children," the commissioner said.

Both men pointed to FBI Director or J. Edgar Hoover's statement that sex crimes have increased greatly since 1947 and claims that the principal offenders are young people only one year out of high school.

The law officers emphasized that lurid literature is not the main factor in undermining youth but declare it is one of the points to be considered.

Siegle also lashed out at unscrupulous distributing agencies which force dealers to accept the articles.

"We know that some newsstand operators must take this stuff if he wants to get his quota of reputable magazines and books. He is subjected to the unspoken threat that his daily papers will not be delivered on time and his whole operation otherwise snarled."

Siegle applauded many of the small operators who accepted the questionable pieces and tossed them under the stand or in a backroom.

Bridge Authority Asks Bids On New Highway Section

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—The state highway and bridge authority asked for bids May 26 for the first section of the Pennsylvania Lincoln highway near Pittsburgh.

The first section will stretch 4.5 miles from the Junction of Campbell's Run road with Routes 30 and 22 to a point near Rosslyn Farms in Allegheny county.

Five projects were approved by the authority in 1949 for the 9.27 mile parkway which will run from Banksville Circle to the Steubenville Pike.

The authority said plans for the remaining sections will be readied for bidding later in the year.

British Spokesman Scoffs At Rumors About Nudes On TV

LONDON, April 28.—(INS)—A spokesman for the British Broadcasting corporation scoffed at a report that British women would be allowed to appear nude on television.

The report appeared on a supposition that since nudes are permitted on the British stage if they do not move, telecasters possibly could approve.

The BBC spokesman said: "While the BBC has no code of censorship and no definite rules, program arrangers and producers would not dream of televising nudes since the showing would go right into homes where it would be viewed by children."

Loyalsock Creek Designated For Rehabilitation

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—Loyalsock creek, one of the state's leading trout streams and a tributary of the western branch of the Susquehanna river, has been designated for rehabilitation by the State Sanitary Water Board.

The board announced that it will permit no coal mining operation which might discharge acid mine waters to the stream flowing through Sullivan and Lycoming counties.

The stream will be devoted to recreational purposes, said State health secretary Norris W. Vaux.

Be Kind To Animals Week To Be Observed

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—The week of May 7-13 was designated "Be Kind to Animals Week" by Gov. James H. Duff.

May 7 will be observed as "Humane Sunday," the governor announced.

The purpose of these special observances is to focus attention upon the prevention of cruelty to animals," Duff said, "and to encourage kindness to animals throughout the year."

INVENTING DUO
PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — A physicist and an engineer have invented recoilless rifles which blow holes as effectively as guns weighing a ton, but the inventions have brought neither man money. Dr. William J. Kroeger and C. Walton Musser, both employed at Philadelphia's Frankford Arsenal explained that the government has "shop rights" to their patents. Besides their rifles, the pair has received 20 other patents for their devices, including a safety device which automatically ejects an airplane flier from a cockpit. Their rewards are always in the form of either gold medals or citations, but both say they are not looking for money because "we have a lot of fun."

Ninety-Three State Highway Deaths In February Of 1950

Harrisburg, April 28.—(INS)—The Bureau of Highway Safety reports 93 traffic fatalities on Pennsylvania roads in February, four more than in February, 1949.

For the first two months of this year there were 210 fatalities compared to 208 for January and February, 1949.

Included in the February total were 39 pedestrian deaths which was a decline of eight from the same month last year. Rural road deaths increased by one to 47 and urban deaths by three to 46 over the figures for February, 1949.

The two months pedestrian comparison shows a decrease of 27 deaths in rural motor accidents while cities tallied four additional deaths, the Safety Bureau said.

Late Banker Owed Nearly $3,000,000

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—One of America's best known bankers left an estate of $10,020 and debts totalling almost $3,000,000.

This was revealed in an accounting of the estate of the late Leroy W. Baldwin filed with surrogate George Frankenthaler by Public Administrator Francis Mulligan.

It was the first disclosure that Baldwin, founder of the powerful Empire Trust Co., had died insolvent at the age of 73 in 1939.

Among the biggest creditors in the debts totalling $2,944,853 was Warren Leslie of Jamaica, N. Y., whom Baldwin owed $997,000.

The New York State Tax commission was owed $6,100 and will be the first debtor to collect.

It will be Farouk's second marriage. On November 20, 1948, Farouk announced that "under God's will" he has divorced his beautiful queen, Farida, daughter of a court official.

At the same time the Shah of Iran, Mohamed Reza Pahlavi, who recently visited the United States, announced his divorce from Empress Farziva, the eldest sister of King Farouk.

(Editor's note: The announcements, which stunned Moslems throughout the east, failed to mention the reputedly main factor in the breakdown—failure of either union to produce male heirs.)

Breaking silence on Farouk's plan to marry Nafarima, the Egyptian court said that King Farouk considers it his duty "to perpetuate the dynasty of Mohamed Ali" and intends to remarry, but not this year in any case.

A high court official later told International News Service: "There will be no royal marriage in 1950. The king wishes to wait until the bride is older. Also there are other reasons."

A BIGGER HOLE
Senator Thomas, who is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, has remarked that "the Republicans have got us Democrats in a hole on this surplus-potato mess."

Now politics being what it is, there's no surprise in the fact that a Democrat should be worried that the spectacle of rotting spuds in Government storage might prove a painful political weapon. Nor will we be surprised if the Republicans—the brighter ones, anyway—make use of this weapon.

But it does seem to us that Senator Thomas doesn't realize how big this hole is. It isn't just the Democratic politicians who are in it. The taxpayers who foot the bill for this mess are in it much deeper. And that includes just about everybody.—Wall Street Journal.

Circus Day Is Drawing Near

Firemen Benefit From Advance Sales

New Castle's Circus Day is drawing near and Mr. Oberleitner of the IAAF No. 160 pointed out today that the fund for the paid firemen's welfare fund benefits chiefly from advance ticket sale.

The IAAF No. 160 brings the mid-century edition of Mills Bros. to New Castle for two performances, one day only, May 2, and members of the sponsoring group have advance tickets on sale now.

"To give the utmost help to the benefit fund, we urge patrons not to wait and obtain tickets on circus day, for whereas 50 per cent of the adult ticket proceeds now go to the paid firemen's welfare fund, only 10 per cent of showday sales apply locally," Mr. Oberleitner said. There is no advance in price for tickets obtained now.

Besides this fund, in cooperation with business houses and individual "Circus Daddies," the local group will make it possible for needy youngsters of the area to attend the matinee performance of the circus as guests. "We want to see to it that every kiddie who otherwise could not afford to attend a major three ring circus this year get a chance to attend the firemen's circus. On behalf of our organization and on behalf of the hundreds of needy youngsters who will be taken to the circus, we want to thank all who have cooperated in this phase of the campaign."

Mills Bros., the world's largest motorized circus, is celebrating its 11th annual national tour. The mid-century edition program highlights handpicked circus stars. That look on his face shows this begel's feelings towards photographers. He's the pet of Mile. Ursula, petite Spanish aerialist with the firemen's three ring circus coming to New Castle.

Company Rejects Program To Reforest Webster Hillside

WEBSTER, Pa., April 28.—(INS)—The American Steel and Wire company has rejected a program to reforest the badly eroded Webster hillside.

In a letter addressed to the Webster Society for Better Living, Harvey B. Jordan, president of the firm, turned down a society proposal to reclaim the "smog devastated" Webster district.

The smog-fighting society has charged that fumes from the firm's zinc works in Donora are responsible for the district's severe erosion. The society also contends that the zinc smelter fumes were mainly responsible for the Donora smog tragedy which claimed 22 lives and made more than 6,000 others ill.

In rejecting the society proposal Jordan said: "As you are undoubtedly aware a large number of legal actions

Oak Wilt Invading State From West

HARRISBURG, April 28.—(INS)—The state agriculture department warns all tree nurserymen to be on the alert for oak wilt which is invading Pennsylvania from the west.

Unless the disease is stopped, it will kill oak trees just as blight destroyed American chestnut trees, according to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the state bureau of plant industry.

Guyton said it is not known how the disease is transmitted except that it can go from one oak tree to another through intertwining root systems.

Symptoms appear about June 15 and vary with the kind of oak affected.

On red oaks, leaves on top of the tree turn dull and muddy colored and curl upward and become yellowish or reddish brown, according to Guyton. The leaves may fall at any stage and a six-inch tree may be killed in 60 to 80 days. The disease acts lower in white oaks.

Satisfactory control measures have not been devised, Guyton said, but affected trees should be removed promptly to halt possible spread.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—(INS)—A construction worker plunged 135 feet to his death Thursday when he fell through a grating on the Delaware river bridge.

Police identified the victim as Robert L. Megee, 21, of National Park, N. J.

Other workers said Megee was picking up timbers on the bridge and apparently plunged through the grating into the river.

A police motor launch found the youth's body lying face down in three feet of water.

State Clears Cloudy Relations With New York

BY AL SPIVAK
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 28—Everybody talks about the weather, but suppose somebody does something about it?

He can go right ahead, says Pennsylvania's justice department, as long as he causes no harm.

New York rainmakers precipitated a controversy last week when they invaded Pennsylvania and shot silver iodide smoke skyward from Stroudsburg.

They had no intention of causing rain in Pennsylvania, they claimed. They merely wanted clouds to be properly treated upon reaching the Catskill mountains of New York so that rain could be coaxed from them there.

Not Consulted

Keystone state authorities expressed concern because they had not been consulted first. The New Yorkers went ahead anyway, under the watchful eye of Pennsylvania State Police.

Deputy Attorney General Samuel M. Jackson said today that the incident, provoking as it was at the time, could only provoke this conclusion:

"Unless potential harm can be proved as a result of rainmaking, the state cannot prevent men from trying to make rain."

"Private property owners can institute civil suits," Jackson says, "but even they would have to prove damage."

Commonwealth authorities minimize possible dangers of man-made rain on the basis that protracted downpours would be required to bring on a flood.

As yet, they say, nothing has been proved scientifically to substantiate the claim that rain can be stimulated artificially. Tests have been tried repeatedly in the Catskill valley, they say, to no avail.

The Stroudsburg "raid" that almost dampened relations between Pennsylvania and the Empire state fizzled out anyway.

Rain Halts Attempt

The clouds were treated all right, but the rainmakers were stymied the same way they had been on previous conditions. The experiment had to be called off on account of rain.

Jackson said the unprecedented question is not necessarily who makes rain on what and where. The problem at hand, Jackson said, was whether New Yorkers could tamper with Pennsylvania's air.

And the answer, Jackson says is: Yes, provided it causes no harmful effects.

Pennsylvania authorities indicate that they are content to let the matter remain where it is for the time being. They say that they have not yet considered requesting interstate agreements.

Is there a chance of an interstate cloud commission being set up in the future? Says a high-ranking forests and waters department official:

"The idea is still in the clouds."

Declines were noted in 1949 in murders, negligent manslaughters and auto thefts in both urban and rural areas in the United States.

Rembrandt Painting Donated To Opera To Finance Scenery

NEW YORK, April 28—(INS)—A Rembrandt painting valued at $125,000 has been donated to the Metropolitan Opera to finance the purchase of new scenery for 1951 productions.

The gift was made by the heirs of the late financier, Otto H. Kahn, a member of the Met's Board of Directors for 25 years at the time of his death in 1934.

The painting, never shown publicly in America, is titled "Portrait of a Student" and is considered among the outstanding works of the painter.

It will be put on display at a New York Art Gallery from April 28 to May 10 and sold to the highest bidder.

Rudolf Bing, incoming Met general manager, said part of the money will be used to buy scenery for next season's opening night.

He disclosed that the opening opera will be Verdi's "Don Carlo," which hasn't been heard at the Met for 27 years. Traditionally, announcement of the opening night opera is withheld until just before the season opens.

Formal presentation on the half portrait, showing a man with black hair and beard sitting on a couch, was made yesterday by Gilbert Kahn representing the heirs of the late financier.

State Veterans Who Served With Canada Eligible For Bonus

HARRISBURG, April 28—(INS)—Pennsylvanians who served in the Canadian army or its components are eligible for the state soldiers bonus regardless if they received gratuities under Canada's war service grants act of 1944, bonus bureau director Clyde E. Rankin announced.

Rankin pointed out that the Canadian act was in the form of mustering out pay and not considered payment from an allied government.

To date only seven such applications have been processed by the bureau.

The Pennsylvania law disqualifies any of the state's veterans who received payments similar to the state bonus from any other state or allied government.

Wife Of Engineer Who Planted Bomb To Seek Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 28—(INS)—The wife of John Henry Grant, aviation engineer who admitted plotting to kill her and their two children by planting a bomb in an airliner, said she has decided to get a divorce.

Mrs. Betty Grant, who first said she would "stand by" him, declared:

"I want to get a job and start a new life for myself and my children away from that man. He scares me."

Mrs. Grant disclosed she has not been able to sleep since the abortive plot April 17.

She announced her decision in an interview. Grant was charged yesterday with six counts of attempted murder and one of violating the California health and safety code as a result of his plan to kill his family to collect $25,000 flight insurance on their lives.

Grant is accused of trying to kill the three crew members of the plane as well as Mrs. Grant, 26, and their children, Marie Anne, 6, and Bobby, 5.

Reverses Plan

Mrs. Grant explained how she came to reverse her earlier plan to "stand by" her husband. She said:

"That day is just a dream to me now. I was numb. I didn't realize what I was doing or saying. I was worried about the effect the whole terrible thing would have on the children.

"I didn't realize the enormity of what my husband tried to do to us until two days later."

Grant's loss of nerve, when he screamed a warning, prevented the plane from taking off from Los Angeles International Airport with a homemade time bomb that might have brought death to the 16 persons aboard.

If we have to make a choice between the cuttlefish which spits black ink and a herring in the red, Mr. President, we'll take the black ink.—Fort Wayne, Ind., News-Sentinel.

Occupations Leave Marks

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 28.—An industrial health specialist said today that a man's trade—be he an upholsterer, glass blower or tailor—leaves tell-tale markings on his teeth.

Dr. Carey P. McCord of Detroit said in a paper prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the American Association of Industrial Dentists that a man's occupation leaves a mark on some portion of his body.

McCord said: "Some synthetic rubber workers may lose the hair on their head; workers in arsenic may grow enormous callouses on their feet."

Most Readily Identified
However, he added, the most readily identifiable markings are those left on the teeth. McCord told the industrial dentists, holding their meeting in conjunction with the Association of Industrial Physicians and surgeons, that he calls these clues "stigmata."

A worker in upholstery who carries tacks in his teeth develops spaces between his teeth where the tacks repose so that in time his teeth resemble a hacksaw, McCord said.

Glass blowers, he said, develop even, round holes—smaller than a dime—in their four front teeth, that is, in the area where the two top front teeth meet the two bottom front teeth.

"The bristle brush bit," added McCord, "and the seamstress thread biter usually devote only two teeth to their work and thus introduce their trades to the dentist."

He observed that men who play the bugle and cornet develop "labial corns."

FIRE AT WEIRTON

WEIRTON, W. Va., April 28.—(INS)—Electric power in Weirton was shut off for three hours by a fire yesterday at the Weirton Steel Company plant.

Four firemen suffered minor injuries in fighting the blaze which raged for four hours in a 1,000-gallon palm oil tank.

Company officials could not immediately estimate damage. A spokesman said the tandem mill would be shut down indefinitely as a result of the fire which had threatened the entire mill area.

The United States, with 1,100 broadcast transmitters, has first place in world radio.

LONDON, April 28.—Princess Elizabeth's second baby, due late in August, will cause another reshuffling of the "waiting list" for the British throne.

The princess, as King George VI's oldest child, will of course remain first in line. Her baby son, 17-month old Prince Charles, will hold the number two spot. The new infant—boy or girl, and the princess and her husband Prince Philip hope it's a boy—will move into third position.

This will relegate to fourth place, Elizabeth's younger sister, fun-loving Princess Margaret.

In any case, the birth of the second child is occasioning no such national enthusiasm and expectancy as did the arrival of "Bonnie Prince Charlie." True, the women members of the royal family—including 83-year old Queen Mother Mary—are busy knitting. But there is hardly the day-by-day public attention that centered on the princess' first pregnancy.

No "Molly-Coddling" Sir William Gilliat, Elizabeth's gynecologist, wants no "Molly-Coddling" of his royal charge. Elizabeth, now in Malta, where Philip is on naval duty, follows a normal routine. Although public engagements for the heiress presumptive have been cancelled, she will be keeping private engagements practically up to her confinement.

There have been only slight variations in her diet, to prevent her from putting on too much weight. Present plans call for the baby to be born at Clarence House, Elizabeth and Philip's London residence. But because the royal family traditionally visit Balmoral during the summer, there is a good chance the second child may take his first breath of air in Scotland.

Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, is scheduled to be on duty in the Mediterranean until the end of the year. But like all other royal navy men, he is entitled to special leave and will be sent home for his wife's confinement.

Atomic Sub? Well—

QUESTIONED on whether an atomic powered submarine is feasible, Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, grins as he leaves White House conference, says, "All I can say is, we will never know until we try." (International)

Revival Of 'Peter Pan'

NEW YORK, April 28.—For several years past the nation's comic strip artists have been fighting a running battle with teachers, parents and assorted viewers with alarm over the quality and quantity of blood and thunder in the average comic strip continuity.

The critics have apparently been under the impression that kids are all seraphim, that violence was invented by the comic strips and that they, in turn, are leading tiny tots into careers of premature crime and violence.

Well, sir, I have been—to coin a phrase—rudely awakened. Mop-pets and mayhem are as indubitably welded together as ham and eggs or beer and pretzels, and no one knew it better than that fountainhead of Victorian respectability, James M. Barrie.

Now, on the threshold of second childhood, I have just seen for the first time in my life "Peter Pan", a play touted as tops in innocent, light-hearted fun for the wee ones ever since Barrie wrote it in 1904.

Although I had never seen the play before, from the very moment Peter Pan flew in the nursery window in act one it seemed as familiar as the census taker and the farmer's daughter.

But the play was well into its third bloody act, with redskins biting the dust, pirates murdering Injuns, pirates kidnapping kids, kids killing pirates and a crocodile munching a man for lunch, before I yelled "Eureka!"

Precursor of Comics
It took a little while to find the gimmick, but the hard truth is that "Peter Pan", so beloved by parents, educators and long-hairs, is simply the precursor of all the comic strips now giving these honest citizens the daily jim-jams.

This play, palmed off on the juvenile trade for almost a half century as compounded of sweetness and light, is so full of violence as to scare the fright wig off Boris Karloff, who incidentally plays not one but two roles in this Barrie revival.

As source material for all the comic strip horrors to which the reformers object so stridently, "Peter Pan" is unbeatable. I can well imagine that it is to the comic artist what Joe Miller's joke book is to Milton Berle or any other practicing comedian.

Now, having given what aid and comfort I can to the comic artists (who need it like I need a H. in the H.), I would like to go on to say that the present revival of the Barrie masterpiece with Jean Arthur as Peter Pan is slightly wonderful in every way.

In Top Class
Even old gaffers who saw Maude Adams in the role say that Hollywood's Miss Arthur is in a top class by herself. Although she has played small roles on Broadway previously, this is Miss Arthur's first starring role on the Great White Way.

To play the role, Miss Arthur has made what—to any other woman—would be the supreme sacrifice. She has not had her hair so much cut as clipped to play Peter. Heretofore, the most famous and short feminine hair cut current on Broadway has been that of Miss Mary Martin in "South Pacific".

Miss Martin wears her locks cut in a mass of short curls. But Miss Arthur has a crew cut, and no mistake. I must find out if she reverses the usual custom and wears a wig off instead of on stage—or if she just keeps her hat on in the house. Girls, a crew cut may be good on Peter Pan, but it ain't for you and me!

By the way, it is wonderful to find a Broadway play to which a girl can take her mother. For several seasons, I have been trying to find a play which does not feature illegitimate children, prostitutes, adultery, incest and perversion.

There's murder in "Peter Pan", yes. But what's a little killing among friends and pirates, especially when there are no four letter words?

When I take mother to "Peter Pan", I am reasonably certain that when she gets home she won't feel impelled to wash out her ears not only with soap but scouring powder, yet!

It is rather strange that New Jersey citizens, who have been smelling New Jersey politics for years, should complain about the odor emanating from a 40 foot whale decaying on one of their beaches.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

RECALLING WEDDING INVITATIONS

"When a sudden death in the family makes it necessary to recall wedding invitations, what should be done?"

Answer: Cards are printed or written and mailed immediately. Here is the form:

Because of the sudden death of Mr. John Smith, Mrs. Smith recalls the invitations issued to the wedding of her daughter Mary.

Question: Must I return calls of sympathy?

Answer: No. A family in mourning has no social obligations.

Question: I am a widow living with my son and his wife. My husband's name was Robert Jones.

my son's name is Richard Jones. I say I am Mrs. Jones, Sr. and my daughter-in-law is Mrs. Jones, Jr. Am I right?

Answer: If you were Mrs. Richard Jones, you would be Mrs. Richard Jones (without "Sr.") and she would be Mrs. Richard Jones, Jr. However, since the Christian names are different, you are Mrs. Robert Jones and she is Mrs. Richard Jones, without any "Sr." or "Jr."

Question: When I answer my telephone, is there any other form of greeting than "hello" which I think is somewhat silly.

Answer: Silly or not "hello" is the general answer in these parts. It is the most popular telephonic greeting and we are all so used to it that few of us think one way or the other about it. You might instead say "The Smith residence" which to me sounds very stuffy.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

New Castle Senators Top Mercersburg 13-2

(Special To The News)

MERCERSBURG, Pa., April 28.—They may not know it yet but several Mid-Atlantic loop clubs who have always banked on New Castle being a soft touch for them are in for a rude awakening this year when they face the "new" Senators.

Manager "Chuck" Cronin has instilled more life into this ball club than last years fan would believe to be possible.

Bilo Socks Two

The Senators showed the kids from Mercersburg Academy just what is meant by that "Old School-boy Try" as they handed the lads a 13-2 lacing here Thursday afternoon.

For the second straight day the batting honors were grabbed by Gene Bilo who went two for two, both hits being doubles, and scored two runs.

Becka Fans 13

George Becka, serving up a nice drop, struck out seven men in the four innings he worked. He faced only thirteen men, which is generally considered as being near par for the course.

This afternoon the Senators meet Oil City Refiners in a game that was rained out last Tuesday. They play in Greencastle.

Saturday New Castle travels to Keedysville where they will meet that city's entry in the Washington County League.

Hope To Revive Grappling Fever

Columbus outfit which dispatches wrestlers to different cities are hopeful of atoning for past errors (such as sending six instead of eight grapplers, some of whom were among the lesser-knowns) and have assigned eight grapplers, among whom are some nationally known, for the May 3 Arena set-tees. As a result, it is hoped the atonement will be recognized by a large crowd.

The bouts listed are:

Lord Blears, Englishman, vs. Frank Talaber, Columbus' rugged heavyweight; Bobby Ford and Enrique Torres, the latter a Mexican Adonis, vs. Jim Wright and Don Evans in the tag exhibition, and Sandor Kovacs vs. Fred Bozie. Jefferson A. C. attaches report Blears, Wright, Evans, Talaber and Torres have appeared in television matches. Bozie, a veteran, wrestled here years ago. Ford and Talaber have also "shown" here. It will be the first Arena appearance of Blears, Evans, Wright, Kovacs, Evans and Torres.

Bessemer High Honors Athletes

Coach 'Dike' Beede Delivers Talk

Bessemer High School honored its athletic teams Thursday night at a banquet in the school's domestic arts room.

More than 80 athletes, school officials and guests paid tribute to the successful Cementer interscholastic teams, ate large helpings of a deliciously prepared meal and heard Youngstown College Football Coach "Dike" Beede.

The Penguin mentor offered a few different suggestions concerning college and high school football than is generally expected from a coach. Dike said that he thought too much stress was being placed on football and that that stress was increasing annually.

He said that his football team was not even having spring training this year. Some schools in the south were cited by Beede as having training all year round.

Too Much Training

He did, however, emphasize the importance in having good conditioned teams and that practice was the key to success on the football field. He also told the group that education was still the most important thing in college and that many years after football and basketball playing days are finished, one still requires educational benefits for successful and happy living.

Special guests included town officials and the school boards of Bessemer and the Mahoning district. Carl Montgomery served as toastmaster.

Football and basketball players were presented with awards. Ten seniors of the championship Class B football team received reversible jackets and letters. Nine other underclassmen were awarded football letters. Eight varsity basketball letters were presented.

Surprise awards went to junior high and junior varsity basketball players. This is the first time that these athletes had been recognized with letters. Eight boys received junior high awards and seven got junior varsity letters.

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 28.—George Munger helped stop the Murry Dickson jinx for the St. Louis Cardinals as he fashioned a neat six-hit, 5 to 2 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates, in a Forbes field night game.

Munger also stopped Pittsburgh's five game winning streak. The Red Birds jumped on Dickson for four runs in the fifth inning of the night contest and drove the little righthander from the hill.

Stan Musial twisted his left knee rounding first base in the ninth inning and he may be sidelined today.

Braves, Red Sox Win

Willard Marshall, the ex-New York Giant, was the main factor in the Boston Braves' 2 to 1 ten-inning win over the Durochermen. Marshall took four straight balls from reliever Dave Koslo with the bases loaded in this frame to force in the winning run.

The Boston Red Sox downed the New York Yankees, 7 to 2 in a struggle of the American League Goliaths.

Ellis Kinder, Boston's 23-game winner last season, won his first in three starts. The Red Sox victory left the world champions with a 3-2 edge in the season's play between the teams.

Roberts Tames Dodgers

The one version of Mr. Roberts that the Brooklyn Dodgers do not care to see is the Philadelphia story.

That would be Robin Roberts, the 23-year-old righthander of the Philadelphia Phillies, who has developed a habit of beating the National League champions this season.

The bonus beauty from Michigan State College topped the Brooks opening day and yesterday he beat them again, 9 to 2, and broke their six game winning streak.

Robinson Meets Barnes Tonight

Welter Champion Fights in Detroit

DETROIT, April 28.—(INS)—World's welterweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson and preliminary boy Ray Barnes of Detroit meet in a 10-round non-title bout at Detroit's Olympia tonight.

The bout has stirred up considerable interest, not so much as to the outcome but as to the reason it was sanctioned by boxing commissioner Floyd Stevens.

Nick Londe, matchmaker for the International Boxing club, guaranteed Robinson $7,000 for his end. Barnes, who fought only one 10-rounder in his career, is getting $3,000, his biggest purse to date.

Robinson will be after his 71st victory without a defeat and the 109th win in a 112-bout career. Sugar Ray lost only to Jake LaMotta and was held to two draws.

Barnes Untried

Barnes lost twice in 33 bouts. He lost a 10-round decision to the late Jackie Darrhard and was knocked out by the veteran Cocoa Kid. His victories have been over comparatively unknowns.

Stevens explained his sanction of the fight following refusal of other middleweights to meet Barnes.

To Barnes' credit, however, he made an impressive showing as a preliminary boy in his recent appearances at Olympia.

Wampum Schedules Bombers Sunday

Wampum baseball team of the County league will play the DeCarbo Bombers of the City league Sunday, April 30, at the Wampum High field.

Game time is 3 o'clock. Any other City league team that desires to book a game with Wampum for next Wednesday or Friday should call Wampum 4475 after 5 o'clock and ask for Bud Wadman.

Directors Make Plans For Senators' Opening

Final plans for the New Castle Senators and Vandergrift league opener Friday, May 5, and the exhibition game next Tuesday with the Homestead Grays were made last night by the Citizens Baseball, Inc., board of directors in the office of President Al Scarazzo.

Quite elaborate opening day plans are under way, such as a parade of cars over the downtown streets with the players riding in open cars starting at 4:30 o'clock Friday, May 5, and ending at the Flaherty Memorial ball park at 6:30 o'clock.

Plan Flag Raising

Arrangements have been made for a few aerial salutes before the game starts, and the flag is raised. Prior to the raising of the flag the two teams will march to the flag pole behind the honor guard.

Banners are being made and will read "Welcome Senators" as the team comes home from spring training at Greencastle on Sunday evening.

Music for the opening game against Vandergrift will be furnished by Mike Isabella through special permission of the New Castle Musical Union Local No. 27, it was announced today.

Box Seats Available

There will be about 85 box seats available for the Homestead Grays game next Tuesday at $1.50 per ticket and reservations can be made by calling 582 or calling at the office of Attorney Frank Morretti, 622 Union Trust building. Tickets will be held at the box office for those making reservations.

The board of directors went on record last night with the following prices for the games: Homestead Grays game, box seats $1.50, general admission $1, children under 12, 50 cents. Opening game with Vandergrift, box seats $1.50, general admission $1, and for regular league games thereafter, box seats $1 and general admission 75 cents, with 25 cents for children under 12.

Boston Celtics Seeking Cooper

BOSTON, April 28.—(INS)—The Boston Celtics may come up with the first Negro player in the National Basketball Association.

Walter Brown, president and general manager of the Celtics, is negotiating for Charlie Cooper, Negro player from Duquesne university. Brown disclosed that officials of the Harlem Globe Trotters threaten to boycott Boston and Washington if they sign Negro college stars.

The Celtics drafted Cooper—six-foot, six-inch, 210-pound star from Duquesne university.

Drake Relays Begin Today

DES MOINES, Ia., April 28.—(INS)—Drake university begins its 41st two-day carnival in Des Moines today with some 2,000 semi-nudists known as trackmen running and jumping all over the place.

The census report on the Drake relays shows an entry list of 29 universities, 53 colleges and 67 high schools from 19 states.

Teams are present from Minnesota and Texas and Louisiana, and from Oregon and California to Ohio. Only the far eastern schools have stayed in their neighborhood to compete in the Penn relays.

Seven university and college championships will be determined today and preliminaries in six other events are scheduled.

Union Wins Two From Mt. Jackson

Union high school captured both ends of a doubleheader from Mt. Jackson Thursday afternoon, 4-2 and 10-2, at Union High field.

Both games were shortened to five innings.

Patsy Minetti went all the way for the Scotties and Grist went the distance for Mt. Jackson in the first game. Grist limited the Scotland Laners to one hit—a single by Dick Pitzer in the third inning—but suffered from lack of support.

Both Mt. Jackson runs were sent across on a double by Gilkey in the second.

In the second game Union scored in every inning, including six in the fourth, to easily notch a 10-2 win. Pete Barber went for the Scotties. Doult started for the Mounties and was tagged with the defeat.

Klenotic's triple in the first inning was the big blow of the game.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

HEAVY VIBRATION of grumbling, frozen and eventually unsatisfied "warm weather" trout fishermen has lifted many a brow the past few weeks—and the object of these complaints is, of all things, the weather, writes Carl Rogan of the I.N.S. But this grumbling means deaf ears among many of the Keystone state's hundreds of thousands of trout anglers. It seems there are some "warm weather" anglers who contest that, unlike hunting, the rod and reel sport should be entirely "free of personal discomfort." But, there are several tunes to this little ditty, and eventually the lyrics come: "If you like the sport well enough, you'll take all that goes with it." Admittedly aiming their arguments at a change in the opening day of the trout season, which now is April 15, these "warm weather" anglers have undertaken in their defense that fishing should be a sport which can be carried out under the shade of an old apple tree. They apparently believe that fishing is a sport which should guarantee a catch and a limit each time a stream. They contend that since cold air and water temperatures aren't likely to produce as many fish, there's no reason to be fishing. They ignore entirely just what the sport should mean, other than a full creel. Yet, on opening day two weeks ago when the air temperature hovered around 25 and the water recorded about 32 degrees, there still were some anglers who caught a limit of trout, and even more who managed to land one or two brooks, browns or rainbows. Successful anglers who lanced one or more of the "Prince of Streams" when conditions were against them have more reason to pat themselves on the back proudly than when warmer water and air would produce easier fishing.

How many true trout anglers have gone astream, under any conditions, and come home with some unsatisfactory comments, even though the limit wasn't the best part of the trip? Odds are few, if any! Undoubtedly these "warm weather" anglers have read too many magazines and pamphlets glorifying the sport of fishing from a hammock. The question is raised: Do they fish for the sport and the chance involved, or because it means a meal ticket? Outdoor scribes have written many impressive articles emphasizing that whether or not you catch fish, the mere fact that you could be free of all worries along the banks of a stream or while floating on a lake or river in a boat, was worth the trip. Now some anglers are changing this version of the sport, giving the impression that fishing no longer is a pleasant, abbreviated vacation, but instead, a meal ticket under the guise of a sport. Changing the opening date of the trout season actually isn't the most important argument. What is important, however, is changing the meaning of "fishing" which even Webster's dictionary describes as a pleasant pastime. Anyway, when April 15th comes around, regardless of how cold it is, there still will be thousands of Izaak Walton's fishing the stream for the speckled beauties with the same vigor they would in warm weather. Those who can be classified as "warm weather" anglers can make their own opening day May 1 or later if that's what they want.

But, why change it for those who are satisfied?

Bobby Jones Faces Surgery

ATLANTA, April 28.—(INS)—Bobby Jones, only golfer ever to win the grand slam, planned today to visit Boston's Lahey clinic soon for surgery on his lame right leg.

The great golfer, whose full name is Robert Tyre Jones, had been troubled by severe pains in his back which gradually developed into paralysis before his first operation at Emory hospital in Atlanta.

Since his initial operation the champion has been unable to play golf and uses a cane to aid his walking.

Many believe Jones' trouble stems from the time in England when he felt something snap in his back during a massage. The next day he could barely lift his arm and lost the amateur championship in the finals.

Wampum Takes Dual Shutouts

Wampum high school baseball team won two games yesterday afternoon from East Brook. Both were shutouts.

In the first encounter, Albert Armotario let the East Brook nine down with no hits. It was the first start on the mound for the former basketball sharpshooter. He was in control all of the way as his mates picked up two runs in each inning of the five-frame contest.

Wampum runs came as a result of five hits, many of them bunts. Kosior took the mound for the seven-inning nightcap and blanked visiting East Brook on four hits. The Wampum twirler did not allow a safe bingle until the fifth inning.

Catcher Don Kwolek was the big stickman in the second game. He banged out three hits with men on the bases to drive in most of the Wampum tallies.

The dual win gives the Indians a 3-2 record for the season. New Wilmington is scheduled at Wampum this afternoon.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Batteries—East Brook, Cummings and Pontius; Wampum, Kosior and Kwolek.

Sharon Postpones Local Golf Match

Sharon high school has asked and received permission to reschedule its important golf match with New Castle slated for next Monday.

Sharon coach Pete Colodi has arranged with local faculty manager Robert Mills to play the match Wednesday afternoon instead of Monday as originally planned. The time of the match is 2:45 at Castle Hills.

New Castle is currently undefeated in WPIAL competition and in Sharon will be playing the most troublesome opponent.

The Canes just got by Sharon, 8-7, in the first encounter between the schools at Sharon. Since then the local golfers have registered 15 to 0 wins over Beaver Falls and Butler.

Add to football's "two platoon" system. Lafayette college may have two different offensive backfield combinations next year. Marion Mentor Clipper Smith is considering having a "pony" and a "heavy" backfield. Smith hopes to use his heavy ball-toters for power plays and save his lighter "pony" expressers for speedier maneuvers.

Coach Frank Leahy has called the age-old story about the Fighting Irish annually being "six deep" at each position a "football fable." And the genial but noted pessimist predicted that the 1950 season would bring an end to Notre Dame's unbeaten skein of 38 games.

Greencastle Men Will Head League

WICHITA, Kas., April 28.—(INS)—The National Baseball Congress today announced that it had chartered the Mid-Valley Baseball league in its 1950 National association.

Teams in the Franklin county league include Upton, New Franklin, Motal and Welsh Run.

John O. Springer, Greencastle, Pa., was elected president of the league. Joseph G. Meckley, also of Greencastle, was elected secretary.

Leading team of July 1 standing will be eligible to be certified in Pennsylvania state program to determine state entry for further competition leading to the 1950 national tournament at Wichita, starting August 18.

Coach Frank Leahy said he has looked in every corner of the Notre Dame campus and is certain that another all-everything end like Len Hart is nowhere to be found. But the former line coach of Fordham's heralded "seven blocks of granite" did single out a 194-pound end named Jim Mutscheller as potentially a great player. Mutscheller is a junior and comes from Beaver Falls, Pa.

Penn State's 220-pound football tackle, Dick Cripps, of Drexel Hill, Pa., performs in the weights for the track team.

Mize Nearing End Of Trail

NEW YORK, April 28.—(INS)—Big Johnny Mize may be nearing the end of the baseball trail.

The New York Yankees received a report yesterday from Dr. George Bennett of Johns Hopkins and Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the club physician, that Mize's injured shoulder has not healed properly.

The doctors said that the 37-year-old veteran first baseman probably will not be able to throw a ball properly from at least two weeks to a month.

Mize injured his shoulder near the end of last season and has not been able to throw since.

He has only been able to appear as a pinch-hitter.

Schoolboy Relay Teams Competing

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—(INS)—Teams from some 56 high schools will race in the 440 relay at the Penn relays today.

Brooklyn Boys High won the event for the third straight time last year and retired the Thomas C. Haydock Memorial trophy.

The same school set the meet record of 0:42 in 1948.

Chester, which set a 3:28.3 record in the suburban class A mile last year, looms as a strong contender this year, although hampered by the absence of its anchor man, Bennie Wright.

CANFIELD, O., April 28.—A very large field of Offenhauser midget cars and drivers will face the flying flags of Starter Dusty Rhodes at the Canfield Speedway tomorrow night (Saturday, April 29th) when the A.A.A. opens its 1950 season here in the Michigan-Ohio-Pennsylvania area.

Many champions of last year and previous seasons will be competing in this inaugural program; and the fans are wondering just who will win the lion's share of the purse in this very first all-reverse start program in this district.
